WE NOMINATE

Henry Nathaniel Drewry, one of New Jersey's outstanding secondary school teachers and an individual totally dedicated to his chosen profession. First called to the Princeton school system in 1951 and since 1960 Chairman of the High School's Social Studies Department (History, Economics and Geography), this 43-year-old native of Topeka, Kansas, who grew up in two small Alabama cities, Talladega and Selma, has been repeatedly cited by students and former students for "converting our classes into exciting laboratories for learning" by relating the study in lessons of history to the problems of the present.

Drewry may well be the only active high school teacher in the United States who has taught for several years at Princeton University, has carried forward advanced study at Yale on a foundation fellowship, and has been singled out by Harvard for one of the highest honors in secondary education. In the spring of 1965, after completing a year at Yale as a John Hay Teaching Fellow, Drewry received one of the four Harvard University Prizes for Distinguished Secondary School Teaching, an honor for which he had been nominated by a grateful member of the High School's Class of 1961.

For the past three years Drewry has served with distinction in Princeton University's Summer Institute for Teachers of History. This past summer, for instance, 25 volunteer students from the High School compiled a near-perfect attendance record as members of his demonstration class. For a six-week period Drewry and the volunteers — devoting an hour a morning to "The American Presidency" — demonstrated to teachers from New Jersey, New York and Pennsylvania that effective teaching ranges far beyond flavorless textbooks, endless note-taking and monologic presentations from the teacher's desk.

The son of two excellent teachers, whose father died when he was a toddler, Drewry recalls that his father's example, his mother's persuasion and the family attitude toward education overcame the stifling effect of Selma where public education for Negroes ended at grade 10. By the time he entered Talladega College, of which he is now a hard-working trustee, he was certain that history and education were to be his fields of interest. From Talladega, where his education was interrupted by three years of World War II duty with the Army Air Force, he moved on to Teachers College, Columbia University, to earn his Master's Degree in History.

Two years of teaching in a land-grant college in North Carolina and two years in Trenton as a Claims Assistant with the Social Security Administration, "a period when I was unable to locate a position teaching," preceded his Princeton appointment. Drewry, whose wife, the former Cecilia Hodges, is a Douglass College faculty member and the recent recipient of a doctor's degree from Northwestern University, believes strongly in "active participation outside of school." Currently serving as President of the Princeton Association on Human Rights and as a trustee of Mercer County Community College, he has been a director of the YMCA and was active in establishing the Princeton Study Center.

For his major contributions to the on-going development of Princeton High School; for emphasizing that "the only really effective way to teach is to help the student find his own way"; for understanding that our classrooms represent the first line of attack on the frustrations of the times; he is TOWN TOPICS nominee as

THE TEACHER, YES

How About Princeton? Teacher militancy is making headlines this fall and in many communities in the United States, teachers walk the picket line.

Princeton residents remember last year's harsh confrontation over salaries between the new Princeton Regional School Board and the new Princeton Regional Teachers Association, and they may well ask "Can it happen here?"

Donald Blankenbush, new president of the Teachers Association, talked seriously and at length this week about the association's 320-plus members and the new ways they can work together with the school board, the administrators, the new superintendent — and the Princeton community.

"The teacher's organization showed genuine unity in the position it took on salaries last year," Mr. Blankenbush began. "This means that, as a strong organization, we can now work for other things, too, not just salaries."

Not Enough? Princeton may have lost some good teachers because the salary increase wasn't enough, Mr. Blankenbush speculates, citing the 63 new teachers hired this year, although he admits that some who left, might have anyway.

He spoke of the school board's action, late in March, raising the salary scale the board had already approved. It meant $12,000 more in teachers' salaries.

"It was a noble thing on the board's part, and it showed their real concern," Mr. Blankenbush commented.

A symbol of the new harmony and respect among teachers, administrators and board, was the appearance of Mr. Blankenbush on the speakers' platform the day the teachers met to gather their forces before classes started.

"I was invited to speak by 'the powers that be,' " was Mr. Blankenbush's only comment. "I think it was the first time the president of the teachers' association had ever been asked to speak on opening day."

Teacher as Judge. "I met a lot during the summer with the new superintendent, Dr. Philip McPherson," Mr. Blankenbush explained, "and I feel that he has a genuine concern to keep lines of communication open and to use teachers as a resource in the system."

One of the new things teachers may find themselves involved in is tenure. A new teacher gets "tenure" after three years, and once he gets it, he cannot be discharged. Members of the school board have suggested that teachers themselves might like to have a part in this decision, and the teachers did indeed come up with a program. So far, that's all.

"I think the mechanism may still need to be worked out," Mr. Blankenbush suggested, "but this participation in tenure is our big goal."

This means, of course, "teachers judging teachers" and this leads to the delicate matter of merit: more pay for teachers who are better than other teachers.

"Career teaching" is the euphemism teachers like to use in their gingerly discussions of merit pay.

"A lot of teachers believe that it isn't their job to evaluate other teachers," Mr. Blankenbush explained, "and a lot of teachers say, 'it won't work.' But I think we have an obligation to study it closely, perhaps work out the mechanism with the administration, and then let the Board of Education know what our results are."

What about hiring new teachers? Mr. Blankenbush says that Dr. McPherson would like to see teachers participate in hiring — maybe form their own teachers' committee to hold personal interviews and check references.

"Teachers need more contact with the children," the Association president continued. "We must move in this direction — adjusting the teacher's day so he can give more time to individual youngsters. Suppose, for example, we had a system of cubicles offices, you might say, where a teacher spent his free periods, and where kids could stop in for private conferences. It would be wonderful."

Mr. Blankenbush is also concerned about the attitude of teachers toward their pupils.

"You rarely find a teacher who will admit he is prejudiced toward Negro children. But there are other kinds of prejudice — what about prejudice toward the slower-learner, for example? I'd like to see an in-service program which would bring resource people to talk with teachers — social psychologists, for example, who would get us to face up to our attitudes."

Regionalization has been a boon for teachers, Mr. Blankenbush believes, because it has brought people with different ideas together. Teachers still think of themselves as "Borough" or "Township," he said, but he added his hope that as the regionalization vote recedes into the past, so will any trace of separatism.

Cites Complexities. About salaries for next year?

"We have no timetable yet," Mr. Blankenbush said. "We must set up our committee, then arrange for teachers to come and speak to our committee, and then in mid-October, maybe we can get together with the board." He would like a two-year salary scale so "we can forget about salaries for a while."

Mr. Blankenbush emphasized that his group is aware of the problems faced by the school board and the administration. He talked about the complexity of school life today—the vastness of the budget problem, the question of "Title Money" from the Federal government for various programs, the complexities of busing, and so on—and he said that, because of these complexities, there must be co-operation among teachers, administration and board.

"If our teachers feel frustration," he warned, "it could open the door to a union." Is he opposed to the idea of a union? The answer is a strong "yes".

Mr. Blankenbush is a history teacher at Princeton High School. On the Association's executive committee are Douglas Coulter, another Princeton High School history teacher as vice-president; Mrs. Marjorie Stewart, second-grade teacher at John Witherspoon as treasurer; Miss Katherine Coffee, librarian at Valley Road as recording secretary and Miss Virginia Keshel, enrichment teacher, as corresponding secretary. An executive board, now being elected, consists of one representative for every 20 teachers.

Democrats Turn Out for Primaries

Democrats held the local interest in Tuesdays primaries, chiefly due to the Ridolfi-Coffee-Farrington contest, but also to the write-in campaign for Township Committeeman.

Mr Farrington carried the Township comfortably (the new Democratic group is strong there) but lost in the Borough (the older Democratic group is strong in the Borough).

Borough Democrats backed their local candidates strongly. Republicans were less eager numerically, and their mayoralty candidate ran low on the ticket.

In the Borough, 4342 voters registered (162 fewer than last year) and 796 voted, or 18%. In the Township, 6,238 registered (41 fewer than last year) and 810 voted, or almost 13%.

rington of Princeton in Tuesday's primary election by a margin close to 2 to 1.

Mr. Farrington was running as an independent in the party-split but could not withstand the high totals cast against him in Trenton and neighboring Hamilton Township. He carried Princeton Township but lost in the Borough (see box above.)

Final totals gave Sen. Ridolfi 19,707, Mr. Coffee, who is director of the Board of Freeholders, 15,846, and Mr. Farrington, 9,905. There was no immediate estimate of the extent to which the split primary might affect the November election, but if Mr. Farrington's supporters continue to oppose the Ridolfi-Coffee ticket, it could mean a Republican victory for the first time in years.

MOVE ON, PLEASE

Loitering Ordinance Set. A new anti-loitering ordinance for the Borough was expected to be ready in time for introduction when Council held its first meeting in the new Borough Hall Wednesday night.

The normal second-Tuesday meeting of Borough Council was moved to Wednesday because Tuesday was Primary Day and Borough Hall is a polling place.

"It is very important to have a loitering ordinance that is enforcable, and will hold up in court," observed Mayor Henry S. Patterson at his Tuesday press conference, "and we believe this new one is."

Police have always had to rely on complaints filed by individual citizens. Under the proposed new ordinance, a patrolman himself can be a complainant. If he tells a group loitering in front of a store door, to "move on" and nobody moves, he can pick up one or all of the loiterers. He also has the power to disperse a group if somebody complains about boisterous language.

Housing. Borough Council has been asked to make a "declaration of need" under the state's new middle-income housing law. Mayor Patterson said this week that he thought most Councilmen were "sympathic" to the request, and he pointed out that the new Borough Master Plan refers, to the need and suggests areas where such housing might be built in the Borough.

If Council doesn't act this Wednesday, a special meeting may be held later so that the "declaration" can be made by the end of September, Mayor Patterson said. Sponsors would like to start state machinery moving as soon as possible. Mayor Patterson repeated his hope that the "need" declaration can be done more or less jointly with the Township as a community effort.

TIRE THEFT MISFIRES

In University Lot. Campous police from the University have reported to Township police the attempt to steal tires and hubcaps from cars parked in the University lot, below the power house, which exits on Faculty Road.

Campus police said that four tires and 12 assorted hubcaps, four of them spinner type, were found by them at 2:37 Friday morning. Two of the tires were resting against a car next to one of stripped cars, along with a jack and wrench. The motor of one car was still warm which prompted the campus police to believe the would-be thieves were frightened off.

Candy Machine Rifled. The candy vending machine inside University Cleaners and Laundry, 12 Witherspoon Street, was jimmied between 1 and 2 a.m. Tuesday and an undetermined amount of candy and coins taken.

Borough police said a routine check at 1 o'clock had revealed nothing amiss. The laundry is open all night.

CAMPAIGN MOVES AHEAD

The Charge. The Borough's mayoralty campaign took a spirited turn this week down a four-lane highway.

Democratic candidate Archibald S. Alexander Jr. led the way by holding a press conference in which he charged incumbent Republican Mayor Henry S. Patterson with ignoring a state highway department plan to widen Route 206—that's Bayard Lane and Stockton Street—into a 60-foot-wide, four-lane highway.

Mr. Alexander said he was referring to a map of New Jersey and a covering letter sent in June to all mayors whose towns might be affected by state highways plans, asking the mayors to express their views.

"I have heard nothing the mayor of Princeton has done to try to block this," Mr. Alexander charged. "If I were mayor, I would not tolerate anything like this."

The candidate said he first learned of the map and the letter during an interview last week with David J. Goldberg, New Jersey's Commissioner of Transportation.

He said he was especially alarmed about the possibility that such a four-lane "dualization" of Bayard and Stockton might take place before construction of the 92-A by-pass, and thereby wipe out any chances for 92-A.

"A mayor should fight as hard as he can to bring about a loop road, and a by-pass system so that heavy traffic doesn't go through Princeton," Mr. Alexander said. "He should pester people in surrounding municipalities and in the highway department until they give in."

The Reply. Asked about the map and what action he had taken on it, Mayor Patterson said that the June communication had also contained a questionnaire, which he completed and returned to Commissioner Goldberg.

Apparently it was only the questionnaire and not the map itself, that reached Mayor Patterson's desk; clerks in the Administrator's and Borough engineer's office do not recall a map.

"Widening either Bayard Lane or Stockton Street to four lanes is absolutely impossible, of course," the mayor stated. "I told the Commissioner this and he agrees."

The map, according to its covering letter, is a "draft highway network", sent around by the highway department "in an effort to determine the reactions of all levels of government to this discussion proposal. (It) does not represent the Department's final highway plan."

The questionnaire asks mayors to list proposed highways that are objectionable to their communities, suggest new ones and indicate some kind of priority preference.

Mayor Patterson added that he, too, had met last week with Commissioner Goldberg. He said their chief topic was the 92-A by-pass.

"We agree completely," the mayor said, "that widening Bayard or Stockton would be totally impractical and actually unnecessary, once 92-A and I-95 are built.

"Commissioner Goldberg told me he hopes to meet very soon with Middlesex County officials," the mayor said, "because South Brunswick Township has a request from a developer to build in the line of the highway department's 92-A route. Mr. Goldberg also told me he thinks the legislature will approve the Princeton part of 92-A in November."

. . . And in the Township. Commissioner Goldberg's June map-letter questionnaire stirred up some dust in the Township, also bisected by Route 206 and affected by any widening.

So far as anybody knows in the office of Administrator Joseph R. Nini, the package was never received, either by Mayor Carl C. Schafer, to whom it was addressed, or any other Township office.

POST OFFICE DENIED

Land Condemnation Possible. Post office officials are considering the possibility of condemning the land they need for a new building in the wake of last week's rejection by the Princeton Township Zoning Board.

In a unanimous (4-0) decision last Thursday night, the Board turned down the Thanet Corporation's request for a variance or a special permit to lease five acres of land on North Harrison Street for a new post office building.

"The proposed use would generate adverse traffic conditions, would have a detrimental effect on property values of the residences in the immediate neighborhood and would create a nuisance to the surrounding neighbors, particularly during the hours of darkness and in the early morning . . ." the rejection stated.

The board also found that a post office is not a "public utility," and thus does not qualify for the special permit Thanet hoped to get.

The five acres lies in the Township's Engineering Zone, and the Board decided that a post office would not be compatible with the kinds of uses the Township hopes for in that zone.

To Court? Thanet has 45 days from last Thursday, in which to take an appeal to the courts. Ridgely Cook president of Thanet, said that officers of the corporation were looking into the possibility of appeal, and are also thinking about asking the Township for a zoning change.

Mr. Cook said he estimated the Township would have gained $19,000 intaxes, or "Somewhere between $16,000 and $23,000" based on the present tax rate.

Arthur Parsons, of the post office's Philadelphia real estate office, has been closely associated for many years with efforts to find a Princeton post office site. He declined to comment publicly on the Board's rejection of the North Harrison parcel.

However, Mr. Cook says that Mr. Parsons suggested to him that post office officials have two alternatives in Princeton: condemn the land they want (not necessarily the five acres in question), or simply move the post office to Trenton so that, in effect, Princeton mail would be sent to "Nassau Street, Trenton, N. J."

If the government condemns the land, the municipality loses all control and all taxes. Parking requirements, setback rules, landscaping requirements and so on, can be ignored, if the government wishes, and of course, no real estate taxes are paid.

Shopping Center? At Thursday's Zoning Board meeting, Steve Slaby, 469 Ewing, who has successfully fought off two post offices — this one, and the 1965 proposal on Harrison just off Valley — suggested the Princeton Shopping Center as a post office site.

"This is a creative opportunity to supply a post office second to none in New Jersey," Mr. Slaby said.

His proposal was endorsed by Montague Brown, Democratic candidate for Township Committee. Previous suggestions for a post office in the Shopping Center have been rebuffed by George Warnecke, owner.

"I am proud of my job and where I live," stated C. Dan Tarnasi, post office employee who lives at 229 Ewing. "I want to see a Princeton post office in Princeton, not off on Route 1 somewhere."

"We recognize the needs of the post office," replied Ivan C. Bash, Zoning Board member who had made the motion for rejection, "the question is not one of post office requirements."

MARINE WOUNDED

In Vietnam. Lance Corporal Gerald W. Perpetua, is recuperating in St. Albans Hospital, Long Island, N. Y., from a bullet wound in his right knee, which he received while on a helicopter mission in Vietnam, last month.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles V. Perpetua, Rocky Hill-Blawenberg Road, owners of The Key Shop, 247 Nassau Street, Corporal Perpetua served with the Marines as a teletype machine operator, whose duties also required him to run messages to units in the field.

A graduate of Princeton High School, Corporal Perpetua attended Trenton State College for two years. He enlisted in the Marines and was sent to Vietnam in October, 1966.

FOUR CARS COLLIDE

Five Hurt Slightly. When Faith M. Bohonyi, 18, of Bobbysville, skidded into a line of stopped traffic Saturday, the result was four smashed cars and five persons injured, none seriously. The mishap took place at 5:15 p.m. on Nassau Street near the intersection of Princeton Avenue.

At the time it was raining. Miss Bohonyi told police she saw a car stopped in front of her, braked, and skidded into the rear of a car operated by Donald Perrine, 36, of Princeton Junction. The investigating officer, Ptl. Thomas Michaud said in his report that Miss Bohonyi had failed to drive with caution under existing rain conditions and ticketed her for careless driving.

Miss Bohonyi was taken by the Kendall Park First Aid Squad to Princeton Hospital where she was treated for a broken tooth and lacerations and released. Audrey S. Perrine, 33, a passenger in her husband's car, was treated at the hospital for a back sprain and leg abrasions. She was released.

The Perrine car, in turn, was pushed into the rear of a small station wagon driven by Leonard J. Hackenberg, 41, 35 White Pine Lane. His car was forced into the rear of another driven by Edilene Moore, 293 Witherspoon Street. Mr. Hackenberg, his wife, Sally, 39, and their 10 year old daughter, Virginia, all received minor injuries and told police they would see their family doctor.

The Hackenberg and Bohonyi cars had to be towed away.

Mrs. Clifford L. Henderson, 16, 267 Russell Road, received six sutures to close a chin laceration she received early Thursday morning when she was involved in a turning accident on Bayard Lane.

Sgt. Michael Carnevale of the Borough police charged the second driver, Alice S. Roddis, 34, of Mantoloking, with making an improper turn off Bayard onto Westcott Road. Mrs. Henderson told him she was passing a Volkswagen on Bayard when she suddenly saw Mrs. Roddis' car in front of her.

Each woman was driving a station wagon and both cars had to be towed away.

Car Strikes Gas Pump. At 2:10 Thursday morning, a small foreign car driven by Sanford B. Gabin, 31, 65 College Road West, veered off a curve and crashed into a gas pump at Leiggi's Service Station on Bayard Lane.

Mr. Gabin told police he was driving between 55 and 60 miles an hour when he slowed to make a curve. As he applied

TWIGGY AT McCARTER? Hardly. But it looks that way, as members of the repertory company do a little clowning before rehearsals start. Phillip Piro (right) who will be remembered for his work last year in "Waiting for Godot," will be back in the company. Basil Langton (left) is a British director who will be making his McCarter debut. Another "welcome back" actor is Susan Babel, who starred in last year's "Once in a Lifetime." At the moment, she's behind that Twiggy facade.

News Of The THEATRES

DIRECTORS SIGN IN

At McCarter. "The Devil's Disciple," George Bernard Shaw's satire on the American Revolution, will be directed for McCarter Theatre's opening night on October 6 by Basil Langton, former actor and director with Stratford-Upon Avon, the Old Vic and the Birmingham (England) Repertory Company.

"Twelfth Night" and "The Merchant of Venice" will be directed by Jon Jory, former artistic director of New Haven's Long Wharf Theatre, and a director for playhouses in Cleveland, Pasadena and Bucks County.

"It Should Happen to a Dog," a contemporary one-act comedy by Wolf Mankowtiz, will be directed by Pamela Hawthorn, a graduate of the Yale School of Drama, and former chairman of the department of theatre at Earlham College.

WILLIAMS AS THOMAS

A Change from Charles Dickens. Emlyn Williams, who came to Princeton last in the full and flowing beard of Charles Dickens, will come again as the full and flowing Dylan Thomas.

Mr. Williams, as Welsh as Dylan, will present a program called "Dylan Thomas Growing Up" in McCarter Theatre on Monday, October 9 at 8:30. Tickets are now on sale at the theatre box-office.

After reading excepts from Dylan Thomas' works for memorial programs following the poet's death in 1953, Mr. Williams decided to assemble a full evening of readings from the stories and sketches Dylan Thomas left behind.

FILM BUFFS READY?

McCarter Has 10 Films. Tuesday evenings at 8 will be marked on the calendars of Princeton's film buffs as McCarter Theatre moves into fall.

McCarter will present two series of five films each: "Youth in Revolt" and "Literature Into Film," both subdivisions of the annual Classic Film Series.

"Youth in Revolt" will open the season on October 10 with the first Princeton showing of Bernardo Bartolucci's "Before the Revolution."

Subsequent films in this series will include two British imports, Joseph Losey's "King and Country" and "Reach for Glory." These will be shown on a double hill with Jean Vigo's 1933 French classic, "Vero de Conduite."

Two other foreign films will round out the series: Luis Bunuel's "Los Olvidados" ("The Young and the Damned"), a drama of juvenile delinquency in Mexico, and "Ashes and Diamonds," a 1958 film from Poland.

"Literature Into Film" (opening date not yet announced) will consist of five adaptations, starting with John Hustons 1951 "The Red Badge of Courage."

Others in the series will be the original 1935 "Crime and Punishment" and the French version of "The Red and the Black," notable for the late Gerard Philipes portrayal of Julien Sorel.

Sidney Lumets "Long Day's Journey Into Night" and the 1965 adaption of James Clavell's novel, "King Rat," with George Segal and Tom Courtenay and James Fox, will conclude the series.

PLAYERS TO MEET

Public Invited. An "everyone welcome" open meeting will be held Sunday at 8:30 p.m. by the Princeton Community Players to start the 1967-68 season.

The meeting, to which the public is invited, will take place in All Saints Chapel on Van Dyke Road, off Snowden Lane. Mrs. Marguerite McAneny, new Players president, will describe plans for the coming year.

The first playe of the season will be Anouilh's "Ring Around the Moon," to be directed by Frederic O'Brady, who directed "A Servant of Two Masters" for McCarter last season.

During December, Alan Downer of the University faculty, will direct a Christmas play to be given in the University Chapel. In April, the Players hope to give a major production in McCarter, with proceeds donated to a Princeton community project.

Under consideration are "A Delicate Balance," by Edward Albee, and two plays by William Hanley, "Whisper into My Good Ear" and "Mrs. Dally Has a Lover." Clifford Odets' "Awake and Sing!" is also on the agenda.

Next summer in Washington Crossing Park's Open Air Theatre, the Players hope to produce "The Madwoman of Chaillot" under the direction of Leo Cohen.

"We look forward to seeing newcomers to the community on Sunday, as well as our old friends," says Mrs. McAneny.

HAVE A GREENHOUSE Outside Your Window. Once you see it, you won't be able to resist. A little greenhouse right there in your window!

You can use it as a cold-frame if you want to start seedlings. You can use it as as a hospital for ailing house-plants. You can use it decoratively as a little conservatory, with vines, geraniums and perhaps a small piece of garden sculpture.

These window greenhouses are available in Princeton by order, from Mrs. Porter Lea, and if you want to pore over the literature and see a real, live greenhouse in action, you should call her at 921-6916.

The solar greenhouses are made in almost any window size you can imagine; in fact, there are 36 available sizes, small enough so that you can have a special herb-garden greenhouse outside your kitchen window, and large enough so that you can fit one into a window four feet wide.

If you have a very large window, you can put two or three side by side. This is exactly what Mrs. Lea has done in her own house.

Each window greenhouse is 16½ inches deep, and those above 28 inches in height, have two vinyl mesh shelves that allow warm air and moisture to circulate lovingly around all your plants. Glass shelves trap this warm air as you know, and prevent the moisture from reaching all the plants. These mesh shelves — which are adjustable — are a key feature in the window greenhouse.

Another feature is simplicity of installation. You know the old business about "so simple a child can do it." Usually that means that only a child can cope with it. Not so here. The greenhouses are shipped knocked down. Sides, front and bottom panels slide together in tongue-groove fashion. You pick up a screw-driver and fasten the greenhouse to the outside of your house by means of the aluminum screws that come with the set.

COME INTO MY GREENHOUSE: Easy as growing crabgrass — that's how simple it is to attach one of these to a sunny window. House plants, herbs, orchids and seedlings will thrive, almost in your living-room. More in "It's New to Us."

Mrs. Lea, a petite woman who is by no means a carpenter, says that any un-handyman can assemble and attach the greenhouse, although on a second-story window, you might need a ladder and some help.

Greenhouses are made of anodized aluminum (no rusting) and are easy to paint if you want to match the color of your house although paint is not necessary, even for the sake of appearance.

Inside, you have a bottom shelf tray for wet sand, white pebbles, or gravel, to provide humidity control. At the top is a roof sash you open to one of four positions, to allow fresh air and ventilation.

Now, what about heat? Mostly, the heat from the adjoining room will be enough. If you want more, you can buy a 500-watt Honeywell heater with thermostatic control. You can also buy a portable fluorescent light.

The greenhouses are so designed, by the way, that you can put one of the bigger models outside a small window, with a bit of additional carpentry.

The possibilities, as we suggested above, are delightfully infinite. Orchids, for example, can be grown in east or west windows. African violets, ferns and all sorts of philodendrons will thrive in a north window. South or sunny east and west windows are marvelous for poinsettias, azaleas, cactus plants, and of course, geraniums.

If you'd like to force daffodils, crocus or tulips for winter display, the greenhouse is ideal. Maybe you could even grow cherry tomatoes or miniature roses.

Mrs. Lea, an experienced gardener, can give you many other suggestions and answer your questions about exposure and what will grow where.

The price scale is related to window height and width, with the smallest greenhouse about $58 and the largest about $118, plus $7 shipping charges. Time payments may be arranged. Allow three weeks for delivery.

"RAIN? WHAT'S THAT?" Asked the Raincoat. It's an all-purpose coat, really which may explain why it asked the question.

Clayton's is the place where the coat hangs its hat, when it comes in out of the rain. "All - purpose," of course, means that it doesn't have to go out in the rain if it doesn't

THE PLAYHOUSE

Two for the Road (held over) is a complex and beautifully made movie, eye-filling and engrossing, with excellent performances by the stars, Audrey Hepburn and Albert Finney.

On the surface, the plot is simple enough, the romance of a young architect and the college girl he meets while on a hiking tour of France. Their courtship is hectic and intense, followed by marriage. Later they make other tours of the Continent — one with a married couple and their obnoxious brat, another with a wealthy Frenchman and his wife, and a third with their own child, a girl, and it is on this trip that the marriage starts to fall apart.

The unorthodox telling of the story juggles time in a manner reminiscent of the films of Alain Resnais. No chronological order is followed; one episode will have something in it to recall another at an entirely different time.

Some of the situations are realistically basic. The dialogue is literate and witty, written by Frederick Raphael, who also wrote "Darling." On occasions the language is blunt and bitter. On the other hand, director Stanley Donen has conceived some of the most beautiful scenes of the French country side and stunning cinseups of actors since "A Man and a Woman."

The film is best suited for mature audiences.

THE PRINCE

Divorce American Style (starts Wednesday). Dick Van Dyke and Debbie Reynolds play for laughs instead of tears as they portray an unhappily married couple, who separate, get divorced and then get back together again in the usual manufactured Hollywood ending.

Backing up Van Dyke and Miss Reynolds is a group of other big names. Jason Robards plays the divorced friend who tries to match up Van Dyke with his former wife, Jean Simmons, in a valiant attempt to get himself off the expensive alimony hook. Van Johnson is the big-hearted car dealer who is the unsuspecting key figure in a plot by Roberts and Miss Simmons to solve Van Dyke's alimony problem.

The film appears to have a serious message to offer about the troubles with divorce, and attempts to get it across via comedy. The result is partially successful.

GARDEN and TRENT

Marat-Sade (now playing) is the screen version of the celebrated play that had Broadway theatergoers feeling they were part of the action.

For the uninitiated, the play is built around a performance by inmates at a mental institution near Paris attended by visitors from the outside in the early 19th century and directed by the Marquis De Sade. There is a conflict between two extremists in the play, Jean Paul Marat and Magee. Marat is deeply concerned with social problems and Magee is alienated from them.

There are discussions pro and con, as well as by-play by the mentally affected inmates. At the climax, Marat is assassinated, resulting in pandemonium among the inmates, who madly revolt against the guards and visitors.

Perhaps, seeing a play with real people screaming and acting the roles of mentally afflicted loudly and in detail adds a dimension that is not so readily apparent in the film. Here, the audience is more removed and not as personally involved. Thus some of the speeches and dissertations from the inmates in the crowded cage seem longer than they are.

There are still moments of suspense and excitement and fine performances by the cast, adding up to an extremely powerful drama.

AT PRINCE THEATRE: Jason Robards has a leading role in "Divorce, American Style," comedy now on view at the Prince Theatre.

AUDITIONS SET

For Community Theatre. The Bucks County Community College Theatre Company is filling out casts of plays for its coming season. Mr. Lee Yopp, company director, has announced open auditions this weekend.

The company's repertoire includes "Becket," "Billy Budd," "Three Penny Opera," "Of Mice and Men," "The Subject is Roses," and "Cyrano de Bergerac."

Auditions will be Saturday and Sunday mornings at 9, and Monday morning at 10 at the Bucks County Playhouse. Appointments may be made through Mrs. Winn Palmer at 393-7072 or 215 968-4219.

ODD COUPLE CONTINUES

At Bucks Playhouse. "The Odd Couple," a play about two newly divorced men who share a bachelor apartment, will be playing at the Bucks County Playhouse through Saturday. The last production of the 1967 Playhouse season stars Eddie Bracken.

Also appearing are Herb Edelman, Philip Sterling, Leonard Drum, Leslie Barrett, Carl Lee and Linda Segal. Reserved seats for the 9 o'clock performances are $4.50 and $3.50 and are available either by mail or by phone (862-2041).

Coming Saturday, September 23, is folk-singer Leon Bibb. Mr. Bibb, one of the singers responsible for the folk revival of the 1950's, includes in his programs not only Elizabethan courting ballads but also more familiar selections from contemporary musicals.

Is your child ready for Piano study?

Find out in just 11 weeks at Piano Playshop. Cost is only $25.

Should your child start piano lessons this fall? There's a simple, inexpensive way to find out. Piano Playshop offers children, as young as 7, an unusual introduction to music, while evaluating their readiness and aptitude for piano study. No piano at home is required. There's no home practice involved. The Piano Playshop is an enriching musical experience and, most important of all, it's just plain fun. Classes start week of September 18th, so call or write for full details today.

Limited Openings for Beginning Students

There are a limited number of openings for beginning piano students in the fall trimester. Classes of children, from the 3rd grade up, will receive instruction under the supervision of nationally-known teachers. Classes begin the week of September 18th, so register now.

Special Dalcroze Course is now available for children from 3½ to 6

MUSIC In Princeton

SHANKAR COMING

October 16. Ravi Shankar, India's master of the sitar, will open the Music-at-McCarter concert series on Monday, October 16 at 8:30.

Tickets will be on sale at McCarter next Monday, September 18. The Music-at-McCarter series is not available to the public by subscription, since it has been designed only for Princeton University undergraduates, graduate students and their families. However, single tickets to all concerts are on sale at McCarter one month before each concert.

The second event in the series will be the return to Princeton of pianist Van Cliburn, who will play in the University's Dillon Gym on Sunday afternoon, December 3 at 3 p.m. Tickets for the Cliburn recital will go on sale Monday, October 9.

Other musicians who will appear are harpsichordist Ralph Kirkpatrick, who will play an all-Bach program on Monday, November 6 and the New York Pro Musica, which will come back to Princeton on Monday, January 16 for a program devoted to music of northern France and Flanders from 1400 to 1600.

Also the lutenist Julian Bream and the tenor Peter Pears, who will give their first joint recital in this country on Monday, February 12; and Andres Segovia who will give his annual Princeton recital on Monday, March 11.

TOO YOUNG TO PLAY?

Not Too Young for Rhythm. The Dalcroze Eurhythmics method of training very young children in the fundamentals of melody and rhythm, will be explained at a public meeting to be held at the New School for Music, 353 Nassau, next Monday at 8 p.m.

Mrs. Adrienne Fried, faculty member of the Dalcroze School of Music in New York, will be the speaker. She will also be the instructor in the New School's forthcoming Dalcroze course, scheduled to start September 25.

Dalcroze Eurhymics uses techniques of physical motion and response to introduce children who are too young for formal training, to the basics of music and creative expression.

Children will be taught in age grouped classes, starting with three and one half years of age, and continuing to six year-olds. There will also be adult classes.

AUDITIONS ANNOUNCED

By University Orchestra. Princeton musicians, whether affiliated with the Princeton University or not, are invited to audition for the University Orchestra's 1967-68 season. The try-outs will be held on the University campus in Woolworth Music Center on Wednesday and Thursday evenings, September 13 and 14, beginning at 7:30.

The fall schedule will include weekly rehearsals, involving both the preparation of works for public performance and the reading of standard repertory. The sessions are scheduled for Tuesday evenings, starting at 7:30, September 19 in the McAlpin Rehearsal Room of the Woolworth Center.

The Orchestra's first concert will be in Alexander Hall Sunday November 19, according to conductor Robert Freeman. The program will include Bach's "Brandenburg Concerto No. 5," Stravinsky's "Concerto for Piano with Winds, Double Basses and Timpani," and Dvorak's "Symphony in G."

Featured soloist in the Stravinsky piece will be pianist Edward Cone. Symphonies to be read during the fall term include works by Haydn, Mozart and Beethoven.

It's New To Us

want to. It's a handsome evening coat, if you buy it in pure cherry silk, and a city dress coat if you buy it in black nylon.

Some styles are puffed, some are stitched in a quilted pattern. The set-in sleeve is as popular as the raglan, and there are double or single-breasted models. One is even reversible: navy to cherry pink.

If you're Princeton oriented, you may want the Fortrel in orange, black and white stripes with orange lining. Prices for all coats are $40-$50.

Coat dresses are favorites of Clayton's fall customers. Some are good Canadian woolens, like the full-length tone-on-tone Jacquard coat in rose wool dress with little sleeve and stand up collar ($85).

Another Canadian costume is avocado green double knit with nice stitch detailing on the simple dress, and comfortable double-breasted closing for the full length coat. ($70). An acrylic tweed, predominantly mauve, has green and burgundy plaid lapels matching the dress collar. ($70).

Half sizes at Clayton's pick up the costume motif. Here's a handsome costume for the half size figure: a coral rust textured dress with a four-inch wide openwork knit collar that turns over the throat of a full-length coat. And the coat is slit deeply up each side.

Another half size is a dress without a coat. It's an acetate knit in allover shell pattern, done in rich emerald with full bell sleeves right to the elbow, and a bit of elastic set in trimly at the waist front.

Well, if you don't wear half sizes, maybe you wear mini skirts? Clayton's has them, too. Here's a Florence Walsh mini wrap skirt in brown or black tweed, edged briefly (it's a darned brief skirt!) with black wool braid. $18. Comes in tweedy checks, too. Kilts swing in clan plaids, authentic every one, and there are bright solid vests in red, green or gold to match for $11.

If you like them short but not quite mini, try on Clayton's suede cloth skirt with stitched gores and sash, in warm dusk blue or navy.

The lady who wore a smile and a Jantzen this summer, can go right on, wearing Jantzen's ribbed lambswool dress in rust or teal ($23).

Another all-in-one-sweater dress comes from Hong Kong in cable stitch with that 1967 turn over collar in turf green or barley. The green has a crew neckline. $20 for either.

KEEP WARM

Sleep Tight. The next crisp autumn night, you'll be tucked into bed wearing Edith's blue and white striped flannel culotte. It has those long, warm sleeves, but what about that cool U-neckline?

For $6, you can have Edith's long gown in any pastel, with square, eyelet-edged neckline. Most long gowns are pastels, although one shows up brightly in a warm, if not hot, pink. Satin neckbands and bows bring a little glamour to these traditional brushed gowns. Some come short, too, or in pajama styles.

Over all, Edith has a tremendous selection of brushed and quilted robes, short or long. Look at the rack of quilts!

Here's one that looks like a forest, with its tangle of leaves in shades of green. It's a short, A-line, fitted robe, with double-breasted brass buttons and stand away collar.

"Caressalon" is a brushed, velvety nylon quilted gently to show the shadows on its pale gold. Comes in shocking pink, too.

The brushed "velvet" has been used again in an emerald robe with narrow red piping making an A line from the flat red bow at the throat.

Again, it comes in a turquoise robe that zips from the back of the neck. There is a monk's collar and a raglan sleeve which is really an extension of the yoke. A padded satin bow starts a deep front pleat.

In the lingerie department, Edith is enchanted with her junior bras, half slips and panty girdles in the wildest, stretchiest prints and colors. Bras come now in Double A sizes, by the way.

One group is all yellow and pink and black right out of art nouveau. Another is blue butterflies on white — with the sassiest flounce of white ruffles at the panty girdle leg.

Two new bras follow fashion. One is a wired white lace model with V-straps designed to be worn with cut-out armholes. Another in nylon tricot, is especially made to be worn with tight sweaters. Not a seam will show, Edith says.

Long, dramatic robes will make you start a fire in the hearth. One is a satin shirt in horizontal stripes of pale pink, pale green, violet and white alternating subtly with navy, wine, brown and olive. Comes in short, too.

Another long robe is a fluid jersey of Joseph's-coat stripes — and it has a hood, in case you run into a draft. For a really cold night, try the long orlon-wool jersey in bright emerald, with its big, wide raglan sleeves edged, as is the collar, with emerald - royal fringe.

Tight, Tights

Pull up the shocking pink or the hot gold and you have a pair of stockings and a panty girdle all in one.

Or two, if you have both legs about you. Plus a bra to match.

Edith's shows off the nylon stretch set in regular sizes for people who absolutely have got to have hot pink stretch stockings to keep warm this winter. And how convenient to have the panty girdle woven right in at the top!

A great advantage for somebody wearing a mini skirt, and bright eyed fun for somebody wearing a maxi skirt.

NEW NUNS AT STUART

School Starts Fifth Year. "The academic aspect will probably always be paramount at Stuart, at least in the public eye, but the faculty emphasizes the spiritual life of the young girl and the growth of her character, as well."

The smiling voice of the new Reverend Mother Mary Cecelia Wheeler of Stuart Country Day School of the Sacred Heart, is in itself a tribute to the spirit, character and intellect of the women who have chosen the Sacred Heart as a vocation.

Mother Wheeler is the new religious superior of Stuart Country Day, succeeding Reverend Mother Agnes M. Barry. Another newcomer to Stuart is Mother Mary Bush who has succeeded Mother Joan Kirby as headmistress of the school.

The transferring of nuns throughout the school system is a standard procedure for all 205 Sacred Heart schools scattered around the world. Both Mother Kirby and Reverend Mother Barry, had been at Stuart since the school was established in 1963.

The Future . . . The two new arrivals at Stuart Country Day held a press conference last week and eagerly described their plans for the coming years at the school.

Mother Wheeler is particularly enthusiastic about a course in philosophy which she will teach this year. She holds a doctorate in philosophy from the Catholic University of America, has published articles in "The New Scholasticism" and "The Thomist" and for six years edited the Proceedings of the College Theology Teachers Society.

In addition, she held a seminar this summer at Stuart for 23 nuns who may be teaching or supervising a philosophy course, and together, they all worked toward new approaches to the subject.

"I know I won't be teaching it the same way this year as last!" Mother Wheeler laughed.

At Stuart, the philosophy course will be geared to "the idea of being a person," in Mother Wheeler's words. "What knowledge is, and how to acquire it . . . can you define a 'good' humane act? . . .", to what extent are we free?"

In conjunction with the English department ("but we don't want to poach on them!" Mother Wheeler explains), girls in the philosophy class will read from current novels and plays. Anouilh's "Antigone" will be one, "The Caine Mutiny" another, and while reading these, Mother Wheeler says that students will ponder such questions as "When do I obey and when should I disobey?"

"Christian Living." Mother Bush is quite as excited about her "Christian Living Seminar," a new course for senior girls which will be concerned with the "general vocation" or, "What do I do with my life?"

"We hope to have outside speakers from professional fields," Mother Bush says, "a psychiatrist and a sociologist to explain drugs in today's world, someone from Alchoholics Anonymous to talk about alcoholism. We'll discuss preparation for marriage in its psychological, physiological and moral aspects, and there will be career guidance as well."

Guidance at Stuart is one of the fields that will expand this year, Mother Bush says, with a closer system of contact between nuns who see the girls each day in class, and the headmistress herself.

Student government will expand, too, and the girls will have more responsibility and more opportunity for initiative.

"I've met with the Student Council, and the girls tell me they want more give-and-take with the faculty and more meetings of the entire student body run by the Council."

"You see," and Mother Bush leans eagerly into her subject, "the school was so small before, that cohesiveness was almost automatic. Now, we must begin to work for a tradition of close relationship between faculty and students, because when you have 268 girls, as we have now, it isn't automatic. And the girls must feel that the school is their own."

Practical Christianity. Another expanded field this year will be community service. The former social action committee will be renamed the "Community Service Council." It will consist of officers elected from the upper school, and representatives from each class.

"Our students have worked in Trenton nursery schools, in the Princeton Nursery School, with migrant children, at the Neuro-Psychiatric Institute, for the Red Cross . . . we want to continue these projects through our Community Service Council and expand into others. This is the practical application, you see, of our 'Christian Living Seminar'."

Can your child speak music?

Now, for the first time in Princeton, children 3½ to 6 can study the creative language of music through the world famous Dalcroze method. Through stories and games it teaches the fundamentals of musical rhythm and pitch and offers the immediate opportunity to use this knowledge creatively, to 'speak' music. Phone the New School for Music Study for complete details. (609) 921-2000

GREETINGS FROM THE PRINCIPAL: Eliana Umbelino de Souza Americao Field Service student from Brazil, is welcomed by Douglas McClure (left), headmaster of Princeton Day School. With her are Connie Sayen, Eliana's Americao "sister," and Herbert McAvoy, her school advisor.

Mother Bush, a graduate of Mt. St. Vincent College in New York, holds a Master of Arts degree from the School of Social Service at Fordham, and another in religious education from Catholic University in Washington.

Mother Wheeler comes to Stuart from Elmhurst School of the Sacred Heart in Portsmouth, R. I., where she was mistress of studies. Mother Bush comes from the Convent of the Sacred Heart school in Montreal, where she was head mistress for two years.

DAY SCHOOL OPENS

With Assembly. Headmaster Douglas O. McClure greeted Princeton Day School students Monday at an opening day assembly. After welcoming the Upper School students, Mr. McClure administered the oath of office to the new President of the Student Council, William Rigot.

In turn Rigot administered the oath to the other officers of the council and to the representatives of the four high school classes. Serving as Council Vice President is Miss Susan Schnur while Miss Derry Light will act as secretary.

Council representatives include Linda Baker, Sia Godfrey, Jerry Pitt and Ricky Ross from the 12th grade; Molly Hall, Betsy Nicholes, Bob O'Connor and Jeff Prebluda from the 11th grade; Freddi Cagan, Fred Erdman, Lindsey Hicks and Chris Reeve from the 10th grade; and Alex Donaldson, William Flemer, Chessye Hill and Joan Lewis from the 9th grade.

After swearing in the Council representatives, a special greeting was extended to Miss Eliana Umbelino de Souza of Rio de Janeiro, Brazil. The girl is living with classmate Connie Sayen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sayen of the Great Road, and attending PDS for a year through the American Field Service program.

The Middle School was welcomed officially at an assembly the following day. Greeting the students in grades five through eight were Mr. McClure and Fowler Merle-Smith, Head of the Junior School.

The Upper School Student Council published a 24-page student manual for distribution on opening day. The Council also called an assembly at the end of opening week to hear speeches by Connie Sayen, chairman of the Social Service Committee, Faron Dauh, president of the Girl's Athletic Association and Jonathan Vereen, president of the Boy's Athletic Association.

TOWNSHIP OFF TO COURT

Over Squibb. Princeton Township filed a complaint in Superior Court on Friday, September 7, against Lawrence Township over the so-called "Squibb ordinance."

Township Committee decided last week to take action on its own, rather than join in the North Lawrence Citizens Association suit.

The Township complaint concerns zoning and planning arguments only; in particular, the concept of regional planning. The section of Lawrence Township where Squibb would build, is adjacent to Princeton Township, in an area zoned for large, rural lots. The Princeton Township Planning Board and Township Committee believe the new Lawrence ordinance, allowing Squibb to build would have a detrimental effect on Princeton Township.

Princeton's suit is against the Township of Lawrence generally, not against the Lawrence Planning Board or the Lawrence Township Committee specifically. In its action, Princeton Township will be represented by Fred G. Stickel III, of Stickel and Stickel, Newark. Mr. Stickel is regarded as one of the state's top legal experts in zoning.

Township officials believe it may take a year to get the complaint on the court calendar.

BOROUGH MAN FINED $65

Bought Beer for Minors. Roy Burnett, 67, 9 Lincoln Court, was fined $35 Monday in criminal court by Borough Magistrate Theodore T. Tams Jr. for buying liquor for minors.

In addition, Mr. Burnett was placed under 18 month' probation. A 90-day sentence to the Mercer County Workhouse was suspended. He pleaded not guilty.

Ptl. Arthur Jackson testified he saw Mr. Burnett place a bag in the alley next to Zinder's on Nassau Street. His suspicions aroused, Ptl. Jackson waited nearby. He said that soon some minors picked up the bag. He arrested them and found beer in their possession.

Police told Town Topics they were dismayed at the light sentence. They said that Mr. Burnett had been buying liquor for minors for years and that they had been waiting a long time to apprehend him in the act.

In a second case, Macdonald Mathey, 38, 6 Mercer Street, was fined $25 as a disorderly person. Ptl. David Alston, investigating a traffic accident in which Mr. Mathey had been involved, said that the latter became abusive and swore at him. For the accident, Mr. Mathey was fined $15 as a careless driver.

In traffic court, Mark Tassie, 18, Carter Road, was fined $25, and Donald A. Brune, 36, 14 Front Street, Hopewell, $18, for speeding. Leaving the scene of an accident cost Lurlean C. Pettiford, 55, R.D. 4, 30.

In other cases, Paul A. Stange, 17, 19 Hamilton Avenue, paid $15 for driving an unsafe vehicle; Michael W. Brandon, Princeton Theological Seminary, paid $15, late inspection; and Turner A. Stephens, 35, 37 Leigh Avenue, paid $10, no name on a commercial vehicle.

Eight in Township. Eight Princeton area drivers were fined last week by Township Magistrate Glen B. Miller Jr.

Fined for speeding were John F. Potter, 24, 303 Ninianne Blvd. and Sylvia Kornichuk, 19, Cranbury Road, each $28; Abbie Ziffren, 25, 75 Patton Avenue, 30; and Gary Peckham, 19, Clarksville Road, Princeton Junction. Charged with going 55 in a 25-mile zone, Mr. Peckham's license was suspended for 10 days. He was not fined.

Sidd Kramer, 46, 427 Cherry Hill Road, and Istvan Gorog, 29, 7½ Evelyn Place, were fined $10 each for stop sign violations. For careless driving, David J. Duva, 21, 43 Oakland Road, paid $10.

Patricia Ann Matyi, Lawrence Township, paid two fines of $10 each for having no license and no registration in her possession.

The Division of Motor Vehicles has suspended for one year the license of John C. Britton, 22, Southfield Road, Cranbury. Mr. Britton was charged with driving under the influence of liquor in North Carolina.

Halted for speeding were Peter C. Heiberger, 20, 100 Longview Drive, and William P. Tukey, 17, 430 Terbune Road, each for 60 days. Thirty-day suspensions were given Clarence K. Brixey, 32, of Cranbury, and Peter S. Johnson, 18, Woodsville Road, Hopewell.

Robert O. Smyth, 24, 321 Nassau Street, James E. Keeley, 21 Wyckoff Mills Road, Cranbury; and Nelson A. Reed, 21, Princeton Arms, Cranbury, each surrendered his license for three months for exceeding the point limit.

ENROLLMENT TOPS 600

For Record at Seminary. Princeton Theological Seminary will open its 1967-68 academic year with a student enrollment exceeding 600, the largest in its 156-year history.

Orientation activities for 180 Bachelor of Divinity and Master of Religious Education candidates will begin on Saturday. Addresses by President James I. McCord and Dr. John W. Meister, Executive Secretary of the United Presbyterian Council on Theological Education, will follow on Sunday.

On Tuesday at 8 p.m. the 156th Annual Convocation will be held in Miller Chapel at 8 p.m. The Convocation, which officially opens the new academic year, will feature a second address by Dr. McCord, "Theological Education at Princeton Seminary Today."

Dr. Meister, Pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Fort Wayne, Ind., will lead the new members of the student body in worship and deliver the sermon at the Service of worship, scheduled for 8 Sunday evening.

Of the more than 600 students pursuing degrees at the Seminary, some 400 are engaged in the three-year undergraduate programs of the Bachelor of Divinity degree or the Master of Religious Education.

Seventy-five new candidates for the Master of Theology and 35 new Doctorate of Theology candidates bring the total of graduate students at the Seminary to almost 200.

ACTORS HELP HOSPITAL FETE: Community Players' spring production of "A Taste of Honey," earned $207 for Princeton Hospital. The Players gave all the proceeds of one evening's performance toward the success of the Hospital Fete, and Mrs. Marguerite McAneny (right), new president of the Players, presented the check this week to Mrs. William Sword (left) and Mrs. Donald Pickering, (standing) 1967 Hospital Fete chairman. THREE BOYS CHARGED

With Break-in, Larceny. Three Township boys, aged 13, 11, and 10 — have been charged with breaking and entering and larceny by Juvenile Officer Walter Emann. All have been referred to juvenile authorities for a hearing before a juvenile conference committee.

Under questioning by Detective Emann and when confronted with evidence linking them to the theft, the three admitted entering the home of Carl C. Faith, 199 Longview Drive. They further admitted entering the Faith home on two other occasions.

In the most recent entry early this month, Det. Emann said that the boys had smoked Mr. Faith's pipes, drank his liquor, and ransacked the house. He said they took numerous articles with them, all of which have been returned to the owners.

A sweatshirt and a screwdriver found at the scene led to the identification of the juveniles. The initial investigation was handled by Ptl. David Funk.

HUN SCHOOL TO OPEN

For 54th Year. Classes at the Hun School on Edgerstoune Road will resume Tuesday. Some 300 students — more than 100 of them from the Princeton area — will report for opening exercises.

Headmaster Paul R. Cheseboro and Assistant Headmaster Ronald MacLeod have been holding faculty sessions for new and returning instructors this week. Student members of the Hun School football squad have already arrived at school for pre-season drills.

Sunday has been set as registration day for the 83 students who are enrolling for the first time this year. Returning students — from 16 states and seven foreign countries — will be on campus Monday.

FRENCH MARKET TO OPEN

On Nassau Mercer Corner. The Princeton Garden Club is once again sponsoring a French Market on the triangular mall at the intersection of Nassau and Mercer Streets. The opening of the Market's fall season on Friday will mark the continuation of a 48-year-old tradition.

The funds raised each Friday morning buy plantings of trees, shrubs and flowers for town institutions. The Market also helps to finance an annual contribution of flowers for Fort Dix.

Princeton Hospital and the Medical Group were landscaped with French Market funds as was Marquand Park. A few years ago gardens were established at the Borough Elementary School and Washington's Headquarters at Rocky Hill.

Supervising the Market this fall are Mrs. Samuel Lambert and Mrs. C. R. P. Rogers. Their plans include landscaping the Market with benches, planters and flagstone paving.

ART CLASS ADDED

By Sharon Studio. In response to numerous requests, the Sharon Studio has added a class in arts and crafts for children 13 to 15 years old.

All other classes are full. Further details may be obtained from Mrs. Ruth Sharon, 921-6156. (See advertisement, page 6.)

NEW CLASSES ADDED

At YWCA. The Health and Physical Education Department of the YWCA will offer two completely new classes this fall. The classes will run for ten weekly sessions beginning Wednesday, September 20.

Yoga will be one of the new offerings. Deborah Filgate will conduct the muscle toning exercises from 10:30 to 11:30.

Sandra Tricarrico will lead a program of modern dance. The sessions will also run from 10:30 to 11:30.

THEY'RE NOT BEING NOSEY!

If our pharmacists ask you whether a prescription is for an adult or a child, THEY AREN'T BEING NOSEY! They must know — for the patient's protection. Often, dosage specified with a child in mind could be all wrong — possibly totally ineffective — if the medication is really intended for an adult. THEY AREN'T BEING NOSEY! Attention to this kind of detail is only one of the many "checks and balances" our pharmacists use to protect you and your family in connection with every prescription they fill. That's one reason why we say . . . TODAY'S PRESCRIPTION IS THE BIGGEST BARGAIN IN HISTORY.

TRICKS OF THE TRADE

HARRIS

Every good decorator has his own "tricks of the trade" — the little things that make such a big difference in giving your room or home the look you want it to have. Here are a few of them.

If you have a wire or pipe, or anything else that you want to conceal on a wall, the best thing to do is paint it the same color as the wall — and so, it naturally follows that if you want something to stand out in a room, such as a chair or window drapery or whatever, use a vivid, contrasting color.

To avoid the monotony of a solid wall of books, remove some of the books here and there and put a vase of flowers and a few well selected knick knacks in their place.

Even such little things as ash trays can make a great difference in a room. Instead of "nothing" ash trays, use something like colorful ceramics as accent pieces.

Are you embarrassed when a few extra people drop in and you're unable to seat or serve them? Always keep a supply of folding chairs and folding snack tables on hand for these emergencies.

Those are a few ideas — and remember we are always at your service for furniture and accessories, we invite you to come in and browse around our store with no obligation. You'll find no high pressure at our store. Just a friendly atmosphere and good merchandise.

I-95 ROUTE ATTACKED

By Hopewell Citizen's Group

A Hopewell Township citizens group has charged that the proposed alignment of Interstate 95 has been arbitrarily changed from the route recommended by the state's consulting engineers.

Keith Robertson, a member of the organization, says the location of I-95 has been moved by the State Department of Transportation to a line not recommended by the department's consulting engineers, Parsons, Brinkerhoff, Quade and Douglass. "Thus far no reason has been given for the change," he said.

The citizens group feels that the state owes it to the public to announce the exact location of the route and to explain any changes. Mr. Robertson says both the state and federal road departments will not commit themselves to the precise route.

The organization also believes that Hopewell Township is bearing an undue amount of the burden in having so much of the highway within its boundaries plus the large number of interchanges. Only eight miles of the freeway would cut through the township, but it would eat up almost 600 acres of land.

According to Mr. Robertson, interchanges are planned at Scotch Road, Reed Road, Route 31, the proposed junction with Route 295, Pennington Lawrenceville Road, Elm Ridge Road, Mount Rose Road and possibly Carter Road. He commented, "This is probably the greatest concentration of interchanges to be located in a rural township of any road in the state."

WOMAN'S CLUB TO MEET

Will Open Fall Season. The Woman's Club of Princeton will begin its fall season next Thursday September 21, with a meeting at which State Senator Mildred B. Hughes will be the speaker.

Legislature for the past ten Legislature fo rthe past ten years, representing Union County, she is currently chairman of the Senate Committee on Institutions and welfare. The meeting will take place at 1:30 at the Princeton Shrine Club, with Mrs. Paul A. Ashton as chairman of hostesses.

PARENTS NIGHT SET

For Riverside School. Parents of children who will be attending the Riverside School are invited to attend the annual Back to School program Wednesday, September 20. The affair begins at 8 in Riverside School's all purpose room.

A short business meeting will open the program. Parents will then be free to visit their children's classrooms to visit individual teachers and discuss the year's curriculum.

130TH YEAR BEGINS

For Pennington School. The Pennington School is honoring its 130th anniversary with the commencement of a ten year building program. The first step will include the construction of a dormitory to house 20 boys and two faculty families.

Later projects will call for the construction of a 20,000 volume library, a chapel, a music building and an academic unit with classrooms and science laboratories.

Opening day of classes for the Pennington School will be Tuesday. Some 230 boys — 180 of them boarding students — will enroll for classes. Approximately half of the boys will be from New Jersey while the rest will come from as far away as Peru, Australia and Korea.

Four new faculty members will report for teaching duties on opening day. Mr. W. C. Steiner will join the English Department while Mrs. P. K. Garrett, a graduate of Bryn Mawr and Yale University, will be teaching German.

New Spanish teacher Jose Torres is a native of Cuba and a graduate of Ashbury College. Also joining the teaching staff is James E. Child, physics teacher with an A. B. from Colgate and a M. S. from New York University.

BIRTHDAY BABY NAMED

By WHWH. James L. Buxton, 4-year old resident of Belle Mead, has been named the WHWH Birthday Baby. The boy was the winner of the radio station's contest to find the child born closest to the exact time that WHWH started to broadcast — at noon on September 7, 1963.

James was born at 9:06 a.m., two hours and 54 minutes before the station first signed on. His prizes include a $13.50 gift certificate at Allen's Children Center, two $13.50 gift certificates from Zinder's and a $100 portrait from photographer Orren Jack Turner of Hopewell.

Runers-up in the contest, all born on Sept. 7, 1963, will receive a $13.50 gift certificate from Allen's Children Center. In addition to the five runners-up, 175 other entrants will receive an award from the station.

GALLUP TO SPEAK

On Trends in Religiou. The YWCA's Ex Tempo program is sponsoring a talk by George Gallup III, managing director of the American Institute of Public Opinion. The program begins at 12:30 in the YWCA lounge Thursday, September 14.

Mr. Gallup's topic will be "Is Religion Losing Its influence?" In his discussion he will present the results of a recently completed poll on trends in religion.

The Ex Tempo program is free to YWCA members while non-members must pay a small fee. Everyone is invited to bring a sandwich to the lounge where coffee and tea will be served. Nursery facilities will be available.

B'NAI BRITH ACTIVE

With Meeting and Mixer. The Princeton Chapter of B'nai Brith will hold its first regular meeting Wednesday, September 20, at 8:30 in the Jewish Center. The group will center its discussion around the Anti-Defamation League.

Committeeman Criticized.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

An interesting exhibition of bad temper and ignorance of the law was given by Committeeman Charles Connell at the meeting of the Lawrence Township Committee on Wednesday, September 6. He was shown an article in the Trenton Times announcing the action of the Princeton Township Committee in bringing suit against Lawrence Township regarding the Squibb affair.

Mr. Connell immediately took off on a prolonged and very critical discussion of the action of Princeton Township. One of his points was that Princeton had not had the courtesy to advise Lawrence Township of the action it was taking.

One of the spectators reminded him that the shoe was on the other foot — that the state statutes require that a municipality amending an official map involving property adjoining another municipality, is required to give notice to such adjoining municipality prior to the hearing on the proposed change.

No such notice was sent Princeton Township until after the first reading of the proposed amendment. If any discourtesy or lack of consideration was involved, it was not on the part of Princeton Township.

Mr. Connell did not like this and attempted unsuccessfully to shut up the speaker by constantly interrupting him. Mr. Jamieson, Township Attorney, commented that he was familiar with the statute but did not wish to enter a discussion of the point.

Mr. Connell should know better. He is employed by the New Jersey Department of Conservation and Development whose business it is to attract industry to locate in New Jersey. If the industry lands in his own township, so much the better. He sat on the Planning Board which devised the so-called Squibb ordinance.

There was plenty of time to advise Princeton Township of what was being proposed. For many years, Mr. Connell has been chairman of the Lawrence Township Development Committee. He is also a member of the Township Committee which finally adopted the Squibb amendment.

Next time, Mr. Connell should make sure of his facts before being critical of our neighboring Township.

DONALD H. TYLER

Lawrenceville

Chamber to Press Campaign.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

The 98 research/education establishments in the Greater Princeton area using the Princeton Post Office are important to the economy of the total area and to the economy of Princeton in particular. These bunsinesses contribute to the economy directly by the salaries paid to their more than 20,000 employees and indirectly by the other businesses and services maintained in the area because of the research/education presence. As the cultural and shopping core of the Greater Princeton area, Princeton, both borough and township, benefits.

Many of the businesses are located here, in part or solely to benefit from the prestige of a Princeton address. To retain this contribution to Princeton's economy and to increase it, adequate postal services are required. The Greater Princeton Chamber of Commerce has worked for the past six years and will continue to work in support of the effort to provide the required facilities in a suitable location.

of the ADL, will present a one-hour film, "The Victims," which was produced by the ADL in cooperation with Westinghouse Broadcasting.

The film, featuring Dr. Benjamin Spock, deals with the development of racial and religious prejudice in children. It includes interviews with children who have just had their first encounter with bigotry.

Mrs. Harold Borkan, Mrs. Norman Friedman and Mrs. Alan Smith will act as hostess for the meeting. Chapter president Mrs. Walter Brunner invites all members and friends to attend.

B'nai Brith is also sponsoring a Hillel Barbecue Mixer Sunday, September 17, from 2 to 4 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Mach. The mixer is designed as a welcoming party for the young men in the Princeton University Hillel Association and girls from Rider, Douglass and Trenton State Colleges.

The affair was planned with the cooperation of Dr. Irving Levey, director of Hillel at Princeton. Representing B'nai Brith were Mrs. Arthur Mach and Mrs. Elias Hockman.

BURR SOCIETY TO MEET

Saturday at Princeton Inn. The Aaron Burr Association, dedicated to the memory of the man who graduated from Princeton in 1772 and later was awarded an honorary law degree by his alma mater, will meet Saturday at noon at the Princeton Inn for its 21st annual luncheon.

An address, open to the public, will be given at 2 by William J. Prendergast, journalist and author. An hour later, members of the Association will go to Princeton Cemetery where wreaths will be laid on the gravestones of Col. Burr, as well as those of his father, the Rev. Aaron Burr and his grandfather, the Rev. Jonathan Edwards.

The association meets each year near the anniversary of Col. Burr's death to develop greater understanding and appreciation of the contribution he made to the early life of this nation. He died in Port Richmond Staten Island, September 14, 1836 at the age of 80.

FREE EYE EXAMS SET

For People Over 35. The Princeton Hospital Outpatient Department will give free eye examinations Monday through Wednesday. Eye health screening exams will be given to those 35 years and older from noon to 2 daily and from 6 to 8 on Wednesday.

ASIAN AUTHOR TO VISIT

Old Friends in Princeton. Khushwant Singh, one of India's leading intellectuals, is returning to Princeton for two weeks. The writer's first visit to Princeton was in the Spring of 1966 when he was visiting lecturer at Princeton University.

Offering a course to undergraduates on Indian religions and a series of evening presentations on Indian life, Mr Singh was soon popular with both students and townspeople. His infectious style captivated audiences as he described the problems his native country was facing.

The visit will serve as an orientation period for Mr. Singh in the International Honors Program for which he will be a preceptor this year. He will be spending eight months in Europe and Asia with eighteen American honor students and two other preceptors.

The theme of this program is to analyze the family as it exists in West Germany, India and Japan. As a preceptor Singh will instruct the group in creative writing.

While in Princeton Mr. Singh will be staying at the Theobald Smith House on the James Forrestal campus. He will be honored Friday at an invitational banquet and concert in the University's Walter Lowrie House.

TEEN DANCE SET

For Princeton High School. Lenny and the White Nights are featured at a dance to be held in the Boys Gym of Princeton High School on Saturday. The Teenage Concerns Committee is sponsoring the dance for teenagers in grades nine through 12 who live in Princetnn or attend school here.

Lenny and the White Nights will entertain from 8 to 11:30 although no students will be admitted after 9. Admission will he 50 cents. Boys are asked to wear ties and jackets; school clothes will be suitable for girls.

SYMPOSIUM SET

For Alcoholism Discussion. The Princeton Area Council on Alcoholism is sponsoring a public meeting to discuss "Family Life with Alcoholism." A panel of experts in the fields of counselling and treatment of this health problem will meet in the hall of St. Alphonsus Church in Hopewell on Tuesday, September 26, at 8

Among the panel will be the Very Rev. Monsignor Theodore Opdenaker, Director of the Catholic Welfare Bureau, Diocese of Trenton. Other panelists will include a psychiatrist, a physician and a psychologist.

Moderator will be the Rev. Robert A. Beringer, Pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Hopewell. Dr. Irene Namur of Princeton and the Rev. Father Edward J. O'Connell of St. Alphonsus Church, are in charge of arrangements.

DR. HENNEMAN NAMED
Ortho Research Fellow. Dr. Dorothy H. Henneman, 164 Valley Road, has been appointed an Ortho Research Fellow by Ortho Pharmaceutical Corp. in Raritan. She is the second woman and seventh scientist to receive this honor.

Joining the company in July, 1966, as a senior scientist, Dr. Henneman was appointed Group Leader in August of that year, responsible for research in the biology of aging. A graduate of Wellesley College, Dr. Henneman was awarded her M. D. degree from Johns Hopkins.

She has also attended graduate schools at both Radcliffe College and Harvard University, and has taken advanced courses at Columbia and Rutgers. Dr. Henneman also holds an appointment at the Jersey City Medical Center, Jersey City.

OLSON IS SELECTED
For Award By IEEE. Dr Harry F. Olson, 71 Palmer Square West, has been selected to receive the 1967 Mervin J. Kelley Award by the directors of the Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers.

The award, which includes, a bronze medal, $1,000, and a certificate, honors Dr. Olson for "his important and continuing contributions in the field of electroacoustics, speech processing and wideband-signal recording. 'It will be presented to him at an IEEE meeting in November in Boston.

Presently, a consultant to RCA Laboratories, Dr. Olson, until his retirement last year, had been a staff vice-president and director of acoustical and electromechanical research laboratory. The holder of more than 100 U.S. patents, Dr. Olson pioneered in the development of microphones, loudspeakers and headphones, coding and synthesis of speech; and underwater acoustical devices.

He attended the University of Iowa, where he received his B.S. degree in 1924, his Ph.d in 1928, and the Professorial Degree of Electrical Engineer in 1932. Iowa Wesleyan University awarded him an honorary doctor of science degree in 1950.

ROYCE APPOINTED
By Nassau Interiors. David Royce has been appointed interior designer for Nassau Interiors, 162 Nassau Street.

He has been associated with Patrica Harvey Interiors in New York for the past two years, and also served as executive asistant to R. V. Bendrat, director of the Peacock Wallpaper Collection. Prior to this, Mr. Royce was with Pageant Wallpaper Corp., R. V. Rendrat Interiors and assisted Yeffe Kimball, the well-known American Indian artist, on museum projects.

CHARTER GRANTED
To Accountants' Chapter. The first general meeting of the new Princeton Chapter of the National Association of Accountants will be held Wednesday, September 20, at the Nassau Inn. A hospitality hour at 5:30 will be followed by dinner.

Speakers at the session will be Melvin Firman, president of the Chamber of Commerce, and Arthur Morgan, chairman of the Borough Planning Board. The chapter has been granted a charter in the national organization and already has more than 70 members. Robert M. Hendry, chairman of the organizing committee, has named Wilbur M. Young, controller of Princeton University, to head the nominating committee for the first board of directors.

AREA FIRM CONTRIBUTES
To Space Vehicle. General Devices, Inc. of Princeton has manufactured an important component of the telementry systems used in the Biosatellite Space vehicle.

The Biosatellite is this country's first unmanned orbiting space vehicle, primarily intended to conduct biological experiments on such things as frog eggs, amoeba, pepper plants and a monkey. The commutator or multicoder developed by General Devices combines a durable mechanical switch with solid state circuits to commutate, amplify and present up to 90 channels of high level data.

It is used in the Biosatellite telemetry system to sample data relating to the biological experiments, and convert it into a form suitable for transmission to earth for recording and study. GDI has manufactured similar equipment for other space missions such as the Mercury program, Titan II, Project Scout and the Phoenix missile.

HILLIER IS RECIPIENT
Of 1967 Sarnoff Award. Dr James Hillier, 22 Arreton Road, vice-president, RCA Laboratories, has won the 1967 David Sarnoff Award, presented by the Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers.

The IEEE is honoring Dr. Hillier "for his pioneering research on the electron microscope, and for his accomplishments as a research director and his inspiration to scientists — young and old." Dr. Hillier will receive the award — a gold medal, $1,000 and a certificate — at an IEEE meeting in Washington, D.C. next month.

A graduate of the University of Toronto, where he earned his bachelor, master's and INSTITUTE WAS "HOME" For New Director. A home sick 19-year old boy who spoke only spanish arrived at the New Jersey Neuro Psychiatric Institute in July, 1947.

This summer, 20 years later, he was appointed Director of Children's Services at the Neuro Psychiatric Institute.

Dr. Carlos Burlingham was born in Mexico. His father had been American Ambassador to Mexico and had returned there to live after retiring from the foreign service. Actually, the family's ties with the country stretch back more than a century because Dr. Burlingham's grandfather, an engineer, went to Mexico in 1860 to help build Mexico's first railroad.

Before he decided to come to the United States, back in 1947, Carlos Burlingham had already had one year of medical school in Mexico City. But he was still uncertain about medicine as a career, so he decided to visit relatives in the states and explore other possibilities.

Among the relatives he visited was an aunt who had been on the Board of Managers at the Institute, then known as Skillman Village for Epileptics. And so young Carlos came to Skillman. He had $17 in his pocket.

"No Hablo Ingles." He was eager to begin studies at an American university, but his meager English made this impractical, so his aunt suggested that he work at the Institute to gain facility in the language.

He was given a job as ward attendant and assigned to the night shift. Before long, he found himself so busy handling disturbed patients in that pre-tranquilizer era, that he had no time to practice his English.

I USED TO BE A KID LIKE YOU . . . Dr. Carlos Burlingham (left) wasn't quite as young as this visitor when he first came to the New Jersey Neuro-Psychiatric Institute, but almost. He is the new Director of Children's Services for the Institute and he used to work there as a teen-ager. More in "Topics of the Town."

He decided that tutoring was the answer. His tutor was Helen Millium, a teacher in the Institute's educational program who agreed to teach him English in her spare time. The year after she began her tutoring, she and her pupil were married. The Burlingham's now have a daughter, 12, and a son, six.

By this time, Carlos Burlingham had decided that he did indeed want to be a doctor, and he left the Institute to earn money for his medical training.

Moving to California, he became head of plastic wiring assembly for Douglas Aircraft after only three weeks of study. He supplemented his earnings at Douglas by working as a Hollywood movie extra.

Back to Mexico. In 1951, the family returned to Mexico City, and the wiring expert entered medical school once again. After receiving his M.D. degree in 1960 (medical training is a six-year program in Mexico), he stayed on at the University of Mexico's neuro-psychiatric institute and studied psychoanalysis for a year.

He came back to the United States in 1961, and after a two year internship and residency period at Morristown Memorial Hospital, brought his career full circle by returning to the New Jersey Neuro-Psychiatric Institute for residency training in psychiatry.

Did his early days at New Jersey's Institute influence him? Apparently so, because he decided on psychiatry as his specialty in his third year of medical school, and he attributes to his early years at Skillman his final decision to become a child psychiatrist.

EXPECTING A CHILD? Hospital Plans Classes. Princeton Hospital is once again holding a series of classes for expectant parents. Scheduled to begin Monday at 7:30, the course will continue for eight weekly sessions — all on Monday.

Mrs. Elizabeth Bucher, a registered nurse with the Princeton Visiting Nurse Association, will conduct the series of lectures and demonstrations. Classes will meet at the hospital.

Expectant parents should register with the hospital, the Visiting Nurse Association or the Princeton Chapter of the Red Cross. Enrollments will also be accepted at the first lecture if the course's maximum enrollment of 36 has not been met.

DINNER-DANCE SET For CCNY Alumni. The New Jersey Chapter of the City College of New York Alumni Association will hold its Fall Dinner - Dance Saturday, September 30, at the Brunswick Inn. All CCNY alumni and their friends are invited to attend.

The affair is the first social event of the year-old association. Cocktails will be served at 6:30 and dancing will continue until 1.

Dr. Buell Gallagher, President of City College, will be guest speaker. For reservations contact F. P. Heiman at 452-2700, ext. 2817.

VIA . . . the UNITED way

VOLUNTARISM IN ACTION . . . the UNITED way!

- raises more money for voluntary services than any other method yet devised
- unites all forces in the community in providing better services for more people
- provides guidance on problems and needs which can be effectively served by a close working relationship between voluntary and public agencies
- concentrates citizen attention and leadership on the total needs of the community
- assures citizen review and efficient use of funds
- reduces multiplicity of campaigns thereby increasing the effectiveness of volunteer leadership
- maintains the principle of local community choice in developing sound, balanced health and welfare services
- plans for change by meeting present and future needs and eliminating outmoded services
- insures that local citizen effort remains at the helm of voluntary health and welfare services
- provides flexibility by tapping additional potential resources for new and experimental programs to better meet the needs of people and the community

UNITED WAY DOLLARS WORK MANY WONDERS

FAMILY & CHILD CARE

Helpless children and troubled families are served by such wonder working agencies as Family Service, Child Guidance, Travelers Aid, Legal and many other local United Way agencies. Programs for the handicapped, day nurseries, maternity homes, foster home placements for babies and children, homes for the aged are also included.

HEALTH

The sick, the handicapped and victims of crippling disease benefit in wondrous ways from local and national health services. Hospitals, Visiting Nurses, medical and health research, health education, rehabilitation services, well-baby clinics, cancer care, cardiac clinics, children's hospitals and crippled children's services.

YOUTH & RECREATION

United Way services include neighborhood centers, summer camps, Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts, YMCA's and YWCA's, settlement houses and worldwide services for the members of our Armed Forces through USO clubs. Groupwork and recreation activities build better communities.

RED CROSS

United Way dollars enable the Red Cross to provide disaster services, special services for members of the Armed Forces and veterans, junior activities in schools, courses in life saving, first aid and home nursing, swimming and water safety, and the Red Cross Blood Bank program. Our Armed Forces depend upon the Red Cross for many services.

COMMUNITY PLANNING

Balanced programs to serve the total well-being of the community are provided through Community Health and Welfare Councils. Such programs as Budgeting, Health and Welfare Planning, Information and Referral Services and Volunteer Service Bureaus serve the local community.

SPECIAL NEEDS

Services to meet special local and national needs; scholarships, personnel work, special studies, conferences, surveys play an important role in developing the United Way and attracting qualified and interested people to careers in local and national community service.

UNITED CAMPAIGN

United Way campaigns cut many costs by eliminating a multitude of independent drives. One drive for many makes good sense to everyone.

ADMINISTRATION

Operating programs and facilities under the budget control of local citizens results in stretching United Way dollars to do the best job possible at the lowest cost.

PEOPLE In The News

Philip A. Parmet of 40 Dogwood Lane has graduated from the Annesberg Graduate School of Communications, University of Pennsylvania, with a Master of Arts degree in communications. He is currently a lecturer in the Department of Fine Arts at Fairleigh Dickinson University.

John Leard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Leard of 36 Moore Street, has been promoted to Army specialist fifth class. The 1963 graduate of Princeton High School is serving with the 207th Military Police Company at Fort Riley, Kansas.

Dr. Paul Jacobs of 171 Jefferson Road, independent candidate for State Assemblyman from the 6th District, attended the convention of the American Psychological Association in Washington, D. C. The research psychologist with Educational Testing Service participated in seminars on the psychological problems of war and the dilemma of life in the ghetto.

Sonar Technician Second Class Bruce Gouldine, son of Mr. and Mrs. William T. Gouldine of Sunset Road, Skillman, is stationed in the Mediterranean with the Sixth Fleet. His ship, destroyer USS Davis, has seen action in Vietnam as an aircraft rescue and naval gunfire support destroyer.

Hugh C. Hollman, president of Opinion Research Corporation, and Robert Worchester, also of Opinion Research, made a joint presentation "Behind the riots: What the Negro thinks" to committees of the National Association of Manufacturers in Hot Springs, Virginia.

They pointed out that whites are now more concerned about civil rights than are Negroes. Negroes are far more interested in "bread and butter" issues such as jobs, schools and housing than with the abstraction of civil rights.

David Hapgood and his wife, Mrs. Janice Hapgood, 22 Cedar Lane, will be at New York University for the coming academic year. Mrs. Hapgood, a teacher in the Princeton Regional Schools, is on sabbatical leave and will attend the NYU Graduate School of Education. Mr. Hapgood will be at NYU's Center for International Studies on a research fellowship.

Four students from Princeton are participating in freshman orientation at Middlebury College this week. They are Miss Nancy Douglas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul M. Douglas of 48 Cleveland Lane, and Miss Susan A. Fritsch, daughter of Professor and Mrs. Charles Fritsch of 80 Mercer Street.

Also: Stephan Bachelder, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bachelder of 456 Riverside Drive, and Hector Griswold Jr., son of Mrs. Jane S. Griswold of Ridgeview Road.

Seaman Recruit Bartoo R. Crenshaw, son of Mrs. Bruce Bedford Jr. of 39 Red Hill Road, has completed Navy Basic Training. His training included participation in "Salute to the Flag" ceremonies at Soldier Field in Chicago.

Lt. Gaston L. Raffaelli, 3 Cherrybrook Drive, is taking part in an electronic computers seminar at Texas A and M University. He is one of 54 Navy and Army reservists participating in the 10-day school.

Robert A. Di Curcio, former instructor at the Hun School and former member of Princeton University's physics department staff, has organized a new computer services firm, Creative - Technical Services Company, operating with a GE-235 time-shared computer terminal, will perform analyses, computations and related services for firms who cannot justify buying a computer of their own.

Second Lieutenant Harrison H. Young III of 130 Longview Drive received academic honors at the graduation ceremony of the officer candidates of the 82nd Company in Fort Benning, Georgia. He placed first in a class of 157 candidates.

Miss Kristina van Breda Kolff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willem van Breda Kolff, formerly of the Magie Apartments, will be a member of the freshman class at Wheaton College this fall.

Also attending the Massachusetts liberal arts college will be Miss Mary Russell O'Brien, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Russell O'Brien of 56 Edgerstoune Road, and Miss Diane M. Holnback, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter C. Holnback, 100 Winfield Road.

Bruce E. Elmblad, has been chosen president of Gulton Industries, a diversified electronic manufacturer. Mr. Elmblad, a West Point graduate, was previously marketing manager for a firm in Harrisburg, Pa.

John A. Ulinski Jr. of 38 Longview Drive has been named Director of the Agency for International Development's Mission to Liberia. He is a former administrative assistant with the Liberian Mission.

Mr. Ulinski began his career with the U. S. foreign aid program in 1951 as an administrative program officer. He studied at the Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs during 1965-1966.

STEFAN MARTIN ON VIEW

At Gallery 100. Wood engravings and first showing of a new technique by the New Jersey artist Stefan Martin constitute Gallery 100's opening exhibition of the season, to run through September 27. Mr. Martin is familiar to much of this community, to which he has made frequent and valuable contributions over the years.

Coming originally from Hightstown, he started his career in Chicago at the Art Institute where he majored in drawing, painting and printmaking and later received fruitful experience in Chicago's Sander Wood Engraving Company. He returned to the east in 1960 and has made his home in Roosevelt.

In the last decade his work has won many prizes in Chicago, Philadelphia, New York and his native New Jersey, for a variety of oils, etchings, lithographs and wood engravings. Among these were the Silver Medal awarded by the New Jersey Tercentenary Exhibition of 1963 and the Tiffany Fellowship in 1963-4.

Well-Known Engraver. Wood engravings have been Stefan Martin's special forte and in this medium he has achieved an individual style which one recognizes and appreciates for having an idea which is always strongly articulated and well designed. His understanding of Nature lives in his engravings of trees and forests which we find refreshing.

He can capture the sharp craggy character of an aged tree, the rush of a spring freshet, the drama of winter and the woods in its various seasons and moods. Though often, by intent, his work is illustrational and decorative, it is not always realistic. For instance, his etching, "Dying Bird" is undefined and largely moody in comparison to the charmingly detailed "Song of Birds" or "Toadstools," and in his newest phase of work he goes even farther from realism.

The New Technique. Mr. Martin is still searching for a name for his "new" technique which is a development of his engraving methods into a much broader expression. He carves into masonite his subjects, (compositions of male and female forms, floating and static), and then paints in oil and varnish, using a far more abstract idea and execution than in his former techniques.

The farther one gets away from these pictures, the greater the feeling of movement, concept and even color comes across to the observer. We like particularly the new technique combined with touches of the old, as in "Young Generation" wherein the few fine decorative details give added grace and meaning to the theme. Again in "Re Entry," a vague and heavy tumbled figure conveys the force of impact much more vividly through contrast to accents of tender grasses and weeds etched on the earth's surface.

In smallest illustration or largest oil engraving, one cannot help being impressed by the sincerity and ability and imagination of Stefan Martin as an artist.

A STEFAN MARTIN TREE: The etched quality of Stefan Martin's wood engravings shows in one of the many tree studies he has on view in the Martin show at Gallery 100.

POSTER CONTEST SET

For Jazz Concert. All entries for the Jazz Concert Poster Contest must be filed at the Princeton Art Association of fice at 14 Nassau Street before 2:30 on Friday. Judging of the posters will take place Saturday.

The winning poster will receive 50. It will also be used as the cover of the program for the benefit jazz concert featuring Pee Wee Russell and his jazz combo. The concert will be at 11 at the Princeton Playhouse after the 9 o'clock movie on Friday, October 20.

Judges for the contest include Marvin Friedman of Hopewell who is nationally known as an illustrator for such magazines as Redbook, Cosmopolitan and Playboy. Assisting in the judging will be Sol Lambert of Lambert Graphics, 20 Nassau Street, award winning illustrator whose work includes record jackets for ABC and CBS.

Quinton Fiore of New York City will be the third judge. Mr. Fiore is a book designer who collaborated with Marshall McLuhan on "The Medium is the Massage." For further information contact the Princeton Art Association of fice, 921 9173 between 12:30 and 2:30.

COURSES OFFERED

By Art Association. Registration for any of the courses offered by the Princeton Art Association this fall must be in before September 27. As each of the ten courses has a limited class size, early registration is advisable.

The fall program begins October 2 and is open only to Princeton Art Association members. Non members who wish to enroll must first join the Art Association.

Mrs. Margaret Johnson will teach a class on Thursdays from 9:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. The course in visual dynamics is designed for beginning students as well as for practicing artists who want a refresher course.

A class in watercolor will be given on Mondays from 9:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. Instructing the course will be Mrs. Dagmar Trimble, a specialist in flower painting who belongs to the American Water Color Society and the National Association of Woman Artists.

A life sketching and drawing course with no instruction will be held on Tuesdays from 9:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. Live models will be used.

David Chapin, portraitist and sculptor, will teach two courses. Wednesdays from 7 to 10 a portrait and life painting class will be offered with live models. A session on oil and acrylic painting will also take place on Wednesdays from 12:30 to 3:30.

For children in the fourth through eighth grades, a course in creative expression will again be taught by Mrs. Pat Kern. The classes meet on Thursdays from 3:30 to 5:30.

Teaching painting and drawing for high school students, college students and interested adults will be William Monaghan. The course is scheduled for Saturday mornings 9:30 to 11:30.

A rag tapestry workshop taught by Mrs. Ann Denzer will meet Friday mornings from 9:30 to 11:30. Offering a class in the techniques of painting on Tuesdays from 7 to 10 in the evening will be Peter Chapin.

For further information on any of the courses or on membership in the Princeton Art Association contact Mrs. Leo Friend of Rocky Hill or Mrs. Simon Marcson of 36 Marion Road East.

OIL PAINTING OFFERED

At Queenstown Shop. Alexander Farnham will conduct ten classes in oil painting starting September 19, and continuing for nine Tuesday Evenings thereafter at the Queenstown Shop Gallery, 43 So. Main Street, Pennington.

The first of a series of Friday night programs will be held September 22 when artist Ted Spawn will give an oil painting demonstration. This will begin at 8 p.m., with a 50-cent donation requested for refreshments.

TWO VOTES FOR PROPOSED LONG WEEKENDS: Both John McMahon (right) and Norm Borden favor the proposal that would arrange five of our national holidays so that they would always fall on Monday. "That sounds great," says Mr. Borden. (Staff Photo)

Question of the Week

Question: Are you in favor of the proposal, being pushed by some members of Congress, that would arrange five of our national holidays so that they would always fall on Mondays, giving most people a three-day weekend

Where asked: Palmer Square.

Norman Borden, Yardley, Pa., tree surgeon for Shearer Tree Surgeons, Washington Road: I think that sounds great. A long weekend. Say a guy's going to travel, he always knows he has those three days. I go for that long weekend. When you go back to work you only have four more days before you're off again.

John McMahon, Yardville, tree surgeon for Shearer's, It's a better weekend for me — a lot better. If you have a day off during the week, it messes your whole week up. Say the Fourth falls in the middle of the week. What are you going to do? You can hardly do anything in one day.

Mrs. Catherine Cirullo, 28 Humbert Street, clerk, Young Ages of Princeton: I think it's a good idea; I believe the people enjoy those long weekends. I know my husband always does. It's for the working people and I think it's great.

Mrs. Monica Peroa, Hamilton Square, employee, Firestone Library: I like the idea. I'm working but I also have a family. This would give me more time with the kids. It gives you a chance to take short trips. While you're at it, I'd like to have some more holidays. How about a housewife's holiday?

Mrs. Mary Mistretta, Pennington, secretary: I think it would be great! It would be a wonderful week without Monday. I think Monday is the best day to eliminate in any holiday period — much better than Friday.

Mrs. Evelyn Nosker, 39 Vandeventer Avenue, teacher: I'm not really opposed to it in principle but some of our holidays have meaning because of the date they fall on — the Fourth of July for example — and to arbitrarily change it to the first Monday makes it insignificent, I think so often people forget the meaning of our national holidays. I don't think it is worth it to change them just so people can have a three-day holiday. Where there is no historical significance to the date, I wouldn't mind.

Scott Nye, Nassau Street, University junior. I'm against it. I like variety. Having a long weekend doesn't mean much to me as having a Wednesday or a Thursday off in the middle of the week. It breaks it up. It feels good.

Miss Edith Alb, Pretty Brook Road, family helper from Guatemala: I think it would be a good idea. I like the idea of three days off in a row. It gives time to go places and do things.

David Russinoff, Heather Lane, student, Stevens Institute of Technology: It's fine with me.

Kenneth J. Foreman Jr., Brown Hall, graduate student, theology: Unqualifiedly opposed. This is like the proposed calendar reform. The primary motivation is commercial. It will make bookkeeping, accounting and production much simpler but, of course, it accelerates the process of putting your life and my life into a more and more rigid mold. If George Washington was born on one day only, merchants and managers would like, for their convenience, to celebrate it on another day. Now merchants and managers are essential, useful and very pleasant people to have in any society but when it comes to stamping out variety . . . I think we are all making enough money with the calendar the way it is. One of the extra blessings that the computer is giving us is the ability to cope with an irregular calendar at a small enough cost that we can clobber these congressmen who don't want their people to remember anyone president's birthday by his name.

Linda Carson, 65 Harris Road, student: All I can say is if they can do it, all right, but, personally, I'd rather leave it the way it is. Everything works out the same; you still get the same number of days off. It doesn't mean that much to me to have them all together.

Thomas Spieczny, Lockhart Hall, University junior. I think the members of Congress should be devoting their time to things trat are more worthwhile than that. I don't feel strongly about it one way or the other.

Miss Dale Crenshaw, 39 Red Hill Road, model: I think it's a wonderful idea because a lot of people like doctors don't get much of a holiday. It would give them a chance to go away with their families. You can't go very far on a day or two.

J. R. Bonfield II, Levittown, Pa., mailer, Princeton University Press: Chances are it will never happen. Too many wouldn't like it. They're settled in their ways and they stay that way. Myself, I'm in favor of it. That way I might get three days off. But, human nature being what it is, I think a lot of employers would try to get around it by making their employees work on Saturday. I think a lot of them would if they thought they could get away with it.

WEBER THE TAILBACK

Injury Slows Bracken. A year ago, Bob Weber was expected to be the starting tailback for Princeton's football team. Hobbled at Blairstown by a severe muscle pull in his leg, and later held back by a bruised shoulder, he then spent the entire season as a replacement for sophomore Rich Bracken, whose progress was so accelerated by the emergency that he eventually started all nine games.

There is now a complete turnabout. Bracken's fractured little finger on his throwing hand will remain in a splint for another week, keeping him out of Saturday's scrimmage with Wilkes College and preventing him taking full part in any contact work until a week or so before the Rutgers opener. Meanwhile Weber, a natural athlete (he's captain-elect of the Tiger baseball team) is in top shape and has demonstrated considerable finesse in his passing.

It is a one-two battle for the tailback position that the coaches like, since Bracken's ability is a known factor and the time he has missed from practice is accordingly nowhere near as serious as it might be. The starting role on September 30 will go to Weber,

THE JOB IS HIS: A combination of his own good showing at Blairstown and an injury to Rich Bracken has given the starting assignment at tailback to Bob Weber, Princeton senior.

more on his ability than because of Bracken's default, and expectations are that the latter will be ready for a fair share of action in a reserve capacity.

A pair of sophomores are working behind the two veterans at tailback—6 0, 173 lb. Norm MacBean and 6 2, 180 lb. Tony Pelino. Last year's ranking tailback on the unbeaten freshman, Fred Wiechec, has developed a trick knee that has gone out twice on him without contact and he cannot now be counted on.

Three Sophomores at Center. A surprising development at center has been the emergence of sophomore Stewart Dill as the leading candidate for the job vacated by Lawrenceville's Bob Ehret through graduation. Third ranked on last year's freshman team behind Bill Schopf and Ben Respess, Dill is currently wearing the blue shirt emblematic of first team status in the Blairstown scrimmages.

"He has shown us better passing than anyone else," Dick Colman reports, "and we are very pleased with his overall performance." One of the three members of the Class of '70 appears a sure starter, since the only varsity holdover, junior Bob Slivinsky, has not been in action at all because of a virus.

Moore at Fullback. Another sophomore is on his way to winning the fullback job, much as anticipated on a basis of his showing last year and the fact that both ranking fullbacks on the 1966 varsity picked up their diplomas. Ellis Moore, a shade under 200 pounds, is running and blocking well enough to have a clear-cut edge on juniors Jerry Babecka and Don Hazen.

At the moment, the only other sophomore given first team status is a 190 lb. defensive back, Keith Mauney, whose work has been extremely satisfactory. Expectations are that he'll pair as a defensive halfback with senior Brice Wayne, the lone letterman left in the defensive secondary, with the cornerback posts going to senior Dick Sherlock and junior Doug Kenna.

One other sophomore may be on the verge of a starting assignment—Mark Biros, last year's regular at shortside end for the freshmen. All players with varsity experience at this position have been eliminated by graduation or injury, and Biros' principal challenge is coming from a 1966 jayvee, junior Mike Garton, who is showing steady improvement.

Bonanza at Tackle. It is doubtful that any Princeton squad has ever had the potential and the depth at tackle that the current Tiger contingent possesses on both platoons. There is a combination of experienced lettermen, steadily-improving reserves and promising sophomores that bodes well for Princeton line play from the opening whistle.

On offense, senior Homer Ashby has nudged classmate Pete Kashatus aside, despite the fact that Ashby was out all last season with a knee injury and Kashatus moved in as his replacement. Bruce Eckman, a veteran as a junior, will pair with Ashby, while top reserves on this platoon include Bob Jakse and 250 lb. Dave Hantz.

Defensively, Dick Sandler, a tremendous find as a sophomore last year, is a sure starter, paired probably with Tim McCann, a junior who will hit the opposition with 250 pounds, as does Hantz. A 1966 jayvee who has come along rapidly at Blairstown, McCann is getting king-size competition from Bob Hews, a highly promising sophomore. Backing up Sandler is Bill Gloyd, a senior who has a fair amount of reserve experience.

Two Jayvees Elevated. The starting quarterback will in all probability be senior Bob Schoene, rated highly by Colman as a field general and groomed by the Tiger head coach for the job last year while Chuck Peters and Tad Howard were holding down the job in their final seasons. Schoene was requisitioned so frequently by Colman for bench instruction during the varsity games that he rarely played in the jayvee contests.

SOPHOMORE STARTER: Ellis Moore is expected to be in the lineup at fullback when Princeton opens its 1967 season against Rutgers on September 30.

Backing up Schoene will be another former junior varsity player, junior Doug Foy. Last year's freshman captain, Jon Wright, had been expected to battle these two closely for the starting job but reported overweight and so far hasn't cut the mustard.

Sophomore Arnold Holtberg is proving himself extremely versatile, spending most of his time as the immediate replacement as a linebacker but also running out of the fullback slot. Holtberg can punt, place-kick and pass, having once been a tailback.

Another member of the Class of '70, 235-lb. Ron Miles, is operating as a linebacker behind junior Bill Bittner. Holtberg is behind senior Craig Stone; one or both sophomores might wind up as a regular but either way, there is good depth provided by this quartet.

Senior Starters 7, Maybe 8. There is a possibility that only three members of the Class of 1968 will start on offense, and only four or five others on defense. On attack, seniors getting the nod are Ashby at tackle, Schoene at quarterback and Weber at tailback.

On defense, a sure bet, of course, is middle guard Lee Hitchner, the captain, with Charlie Baby at end and Bruce Wayne at halfback also seemingly certain of their jobs. Add Stone as a linebacker and Sherlock as a corner back, and that may be it for the seniors. It tends to paint 1967 as a promising but building year for the Tigers and to create a particularly bright picture for the following season.

PHS FOOTBALL III

(This is the last of three articles on Princeton High School's football prospects for 1967.)

Can Little Tigers Repeat? In winning seven of nine last year, the Princeton High School football team was aided in part by a schedule that was less than overpowering.

Three of the weaker teams, two of them Group 3 schools, were added for one year only and will not appear on the '67 schedule. They are North Hunterdon, J. P. Stevens and Asbury Park. In defeating all easily last year, the Little Tigers outscored them, 112 to 18.

A second key to the Blue and White's success last season was a solid defense. "The defense got us the ball many times," said PHS coach Dick Wood. "It was instrumental in our having a good season." In five of those seven victories, the defense held the opposition to zero points.

Can the Little Tigers come back with another fine year? How many games can they expect to win this fall? (Their record in the five years Wood has been at the helm is 23-19-1.) At best an educated guess, the answer lies in a closer look at the defense and the schedule.

The defensive backfield is strong. "We've got a lot of experience there," said Wood. For linebackers he has two good operators in brothers Charlie and John Madden. Behind them are Guy Moody, Karl Stange, Marty Heitner, Nick Arcaro and Dave Drake.

Co-captain Tom Taylor, Huston Webber and Matt Alexander — all experienced — will alternate at the defensive halfback position. In addition, Wood has seven more contenders on his chart for the two positions. Ron McEwen and Bill Walstad will share the safety position. Both—McEwen in particular have defensive experience.

Middle Line Weak. But up front where it counts, it is a different story. The defensive line is strong at both flanks, but with the exception of tackle Tom Butterfoss, the interior line is untested. It may prove to be a soft underbelly.

"We need one good tackle and two guards, although Fiabane should hold up at guard," commented Wood. He was referring to Jerry Fiabane, a returning lettermen who saw a good deal of action last year as a defensive guard.

At the other guard position, Wood is counting on Barry Abelson. It is a sizeable gamble. Abelson has had no varsity experience and quit the team midway through the season last year. Behind Abelson, Wood has listed Angelo Cenerino, Joe LaPlaca, Jim Corio and Gary Coleman.

At one tackle is co-captain and super-star Tom Butterfoss. No problem there. At the other is Al Perone, Harry Rosso, and What's new from Ford for '68?

MERCURY COUGAR — the success car of the year stalks an even larger share of the specialty car market with four exciting models for 1968. Newest Cougar on the prowl is the 7.0 Litre GT-E, designed with the luxury and appointments of a grand touring car and the muscular appeal of a competition car. The GT-E pictured above features a power dome, wide lower body silver paint and quad exhaust pipes. Performance is fulfilled by its 427-cubic inch V-8 teamed with Select-Shift Merc-O-Matic transmission and backed by performance handling package, styled steel wheels, power disc brakes and power steering.

Gary Everson, all seniors but all untested.

Nick Ryan and Jay Springer at one end and Fred Fox and Ralph Davis at the other add up to strength and experience on either flank. Ryan and Fox were starters by the end of last year.

So, the line is filled with question marks. However, one big plus Wood has going for him, albeit an intangible, is defensive coach Tom Murray. Tom, PHS '53, took over as defensive coach last year. The total dedication and skill he brought to the job was quickly evident. As proof there were those five shutouts.

"Tom has done an excellent job for us," commented Wood. He knows how to set up defenses that work."

Houtenville works with the backs on all teams and is the school's chief scouter. Wood added that Houtenville has become so adept as a scout that he plans to use him almost exclusively in advising what phases of the game the squad needs to work on from week to week. "I plan to use his scouting reports a little bit more for the offense," he added.

As for the schedule, it is according to Wood, "a tougher one." "Perth Amboy," one of the three newcomers, he said, was a "perennial Central Jersey power. They're good in football and basketball every year."

Colonia and East Brunswick are largely unknown to Wood. He said that Colonia was a large school about three or four years old but he was unfamiliar with its football record. Led by a standout quarterback who graduated in June, East Brunswick had a good season last year. Its October 28 meeting with PHS will be the first athletic meeting between the two schools.

No Breathers. Elsewhere, there aren't any breathers with the possible exception of Trenton High School, which in the wake of a disastrous season last year is trying to rebuild under a new coach. But it doesn't seem likely the Tornadoes will be able to reverse themselves in one year.

Former schools that could usually be figured as a win for the Little Tigers are no more. One such team, Steinert, won them all last year to post its first undefeated season in history. Another, Hamilton, which upset PHS 13-7 to the season's opener for both in '66, continues to prosper under the guidance of Dave Bryan.

Both Hamilton and Ewing, Wood remarked, are benefitting from a good feeder system. Each has the pick of the best from two junior high schools.

Wood looks for Notre Dame, which PHS defeated for the first time last year, to be a lot better. The Irish have a lot returning, including quarterback Mike Drulis, whom Wood described as a "terrific quarterback."

Madison, Princeton's fourth non-county foe, was hampered by a double sessions problem last year and had a poor season. Madison can only go in one direction — up.

"The fact that we have a tougher schedule means that it will be a little bit harder for us to compile the kind of record we did last year," said Wood. "But I'm optimistic at this point. I think, overall, the potential of the team this year is pretty good."

Still the Single Wing. Schedules may change but the formation favored by PHS over the years will not. "Basically, our offense will still be the single wing," said Wood. "We'll still run our power plays and traps and reverses off that."

But there are signs of cracks in the single wing wall. "We used some variations last year and maybe we'll use even a little more this year," said Wood. He said that he was particularly eager to experiment with passing off running plays. With the exception of the running pass, the single wing does not lend itself to any kind of pass deception. The tailback takes the direct pass from center and stands back and uncorks.

"I was never in favor of a multiple offence before," said Wood, "but I can see its possibilities – if it is taught right, if the kids know what they are doing." So perhaps followers of the Little Tigers will see a lot more of the A formation PHS has used sparingly in the past, which Wood says is nothing more than a modified T.

How will the Little Tigers do this fall? If Murray can produce another fine defensive unit; if question marks at quarterback and end hold up; if experimentation in the offense works; if the team can escape injuries to key players; if . . .

The truth is, pre-season 1967 is just too iffy as far as the Princeton High School football team is concerned. Mark this down as one of those wait and see years.

LITTLE TIGER CAPTAINS: Tom "Buzz" Taylor (left) and Tom Butterfoss are co-captains of the 1967 Princeton High School football team which will open its season Saturday, September 23, at home against Hamilton. Taylor is a wingback and Butterfoss an all-scholastic tackle.

FALL SAILING STARTS

For Carnegie Club. John Reeder won the first series of races staged by the Carnegie Sailing Club as its fall season opened Sunday on the lake. With his son Jack serving as crew in the competition for Penguin class boats, he compiled 20.0 points.

The runner up was Dexter Miller with 17.7, followed by Dan Herrick, 11.3, and Pat Curtiss and John Hopwood, 1.0 apiece.

Jack Reeder won the August "B" duckboard series at the Mantoloking Yacht Club. On Labor Day weekend, Dexter Miller and John Reeder crewed aboard "Summertime," which won class "C" in the Stamford Yacht Club Vineyard Race.

TOURNAMENT UNDER WAY

At Springdale. The qualifying round and first round elimination matches were held last weekend in the annual championship tournament at the Springdale Golf Club. Moore Gates Jr. was the medalist with a one-under-par 70.

Two of Sunday's matches in the 16-man championship round went extra holes. Gates defeated Harry Hall, on the 20th green, while Bill Paine and Price Smith went 21 holes before the former triumphed.

Results of other first-round matches: Robert Tyler Jr. defeated John Sienkiewicz, 4 and 3; Bob Shaw defeated Maury Mather, 1 up; Art Schwartz, the defending champion, defeated Lucien Brush Jr., 3 and 2; Karl Pettit defeated Sam Kind, 5 and 4; Fred Peterson defeated Bill Millman, 3 and 2; Lew Sarett defeated Bill Pettit, 5 and 3.

In the second flight, Dick Judge was the winner over John Lesher Jr., score unposted; Bob McHugh won over Dr. Thomas James by default; John McKinney defeated Frank McCracken, 2 and 1; and Elliott McVitty won over Harry Volweider in a match called by mutual agreement in the rain after McVitty had a 6 and 3 lead.

In the third flight, Tom Brophy won over Ed Conlin by default; as did Eugene Gillespie over San Stewart. Jack Roughton defeated Buck Holder, 3 and 2, and Jim Litvack won over Dick Liebler by default after holding a 2 up lead at the end of 9.

In the fourth flight, Harold Houghton defeated Stuart Drier, 4 and 3; Ross Schrader defeated John Howard, 3 and 2; Charlie Hurford defeated Bill Wilson, 3 and 1; and Taylor Woodward defeated Glenn Eshbach, score unposted.

Four other flights are also competing in the tournament. The final rounds will be played Saturday and Sunday in all but the championship flight, which started with 16 players.

RIDERS TRIUMPH

At 4-H Horse Show. Marion Stoltzfus, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Webster of Mountain View Road, won Champion for the Day honors at the Horse Gymkhana in Kingston. Sponsoring the show was the Montgomery Rough Riders 4-H Club.

Miss Stoltzfus, riding Pepper Tree, scored 30 points. Reserve Champion For The Day was captured with a score of 28 points by Miss Kathy Higgins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Higgins of the Great Road.

Runners-up were Donna Sinkuay of Somerset County with 19 points and Miss Robin Kammler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cory Kammler of Orchard Road in Skillman, with 18 points.

Leaders of the Montgomery County Rough Riders 4-H Club responsible for organizing the show were Mrs. Elizabeth

No. 4 for Mather

Maury Mather scored the fourth hole in one of his career Friday when he sank his tee shot on the 175 yard second at Springdale. "I used a four iron and skulled it perfectly," Mather reported.

The ace aided him in recording a 75 for the 18-hole round. Playing in the foursome were Tom James, Harold Houghton and Clarence Spencer.

MRS. THORNTON VICTOR

In Women's Golf. Mrs. James S. Thornton won a sudden death playoff on the 19th hole from Mrs. James C. Blair last week to capture the Springdale Golf Club's Women's Championship.

Mrs. Paul E. Orr defeated Mrs. E. M. Leyton in the "Beaten Eight" flight of the tournament. In the club's final mixed Scotch foursome of the year, Mr. and Mrs. Mac C. Morri were victorious. Runner-up twosomes were Mrs. James Warga, this year's chairman of the women's group, and Jack Sweeney, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert P. Tyler.

ASTRO WINS TITLE

In Business Softball. RCA Astro defeated RCA A in two consecutive games last week and won the 1967 Business Softball League championship and the TOWN TOPICS trophy. Accelerator had captured the title for the past two years.

Astro edged RCA, 4-2 in the first game and took the second contest, 8-3. It had previously beaten McGraw Hill and American Cyanamid in the post-season playoffs. RCA beat Western Electric, 14-5, last week to gain the right to face Astro.

BOWLING RESUMES

Kiefer Rolls 735. League play resumed last week at the Princeton Recreation Lanes on Nassau Street and the summer layoff didn't have any adverse effect on Bill Kiefer.

Rolling for Nassau Del in the A League (formerly the B League), Bill started strong with a 222, followed that with a 246 and ended with a scorching 267 for a 735 series. With the season only one week old, Dave Burrough, owner of the Princeton Lanes, quipped that Bill can claim he has a 245 average.

Dick Fowler, a member of the Antlers team, rolled a final 241 to finish with a 655. Al Spencer had 632 — highest game a 231 — and Frank Cawley fashioned a 613 on games of 224-175-214.

High single games were Fred Lehnert's 231 and Harry Kahny's 228. Mike Pinelli rolled 202-206. Eleven others were in the 200 or more range.

Aided by the surges of Kiefer and Fowler, Nassau Del and Antlers finished in a first place tie along with Ivy Inn. All three have six points. Smith Book Bindery, Maul Electric and Balestrieri's are knotted at four each, while three others have two.

Rocky Hill, Princeton Junction and Hook and Ladder "L" shared the top spot in the Tri County Firemen's League, each having six points. Bunched in second place, two points back, are Mercer No. 3 Princeton No. 1 and Kingston.

Mike Duvin of Lawrenceville leveled the most pins — 663 on games of 217-210-236. George Kirby of Kingston had 629 and Ed Hughes of Rocky Hill had 613. Harry Kahny of Mercer No. 3 claimed the high single game, a 238. Bill Wesp had 231 and Bob Schafer broke into the news by rolling triplicate games of 163.

Ed Duncan Jr. showed dad the way it was done in the Nassau League, rolling a fine 647 on games of 204-247-196. The best Ed Sr. could do was a 206.

Al Spencer had only one 200 game, a 217, but his other two were high enough — 199 and 191 — to earn him a 607 series. High single games: Fred Goeke, 233; Bill Penelli, 224; Al Toto, 217.

Four teams — B&D Atlantic, Grover Lumber, First Aid Squad and Plumbers & Steamfitters — share the lead. Snedekers Mowers with four points is two back in second place. Six teams failed to garner a single point.

Helen Tamasi lead all distaff bowlers in the Business Women's League with a 552 on games of 180-177-195. Carol Lisi had a 148-182-178 — 508. Others: Diane Fowler, 211; Marge Bose, 190; Dail Forsyth, 181; Eleanor Pinelli, 180; Mickey Chilcote, 179; Pat Bruce, 177; Margaret Drummond, 176; and Lillian Burrough, 175-167.

Clustered on top in the standings are Rocky Hill Inn, Jefferson Plumbing and Bucci Builders — all with six points. Princeton Taxi, Claridge Liquors and Mickey's have four points apiece.

BANQUET SCHEDULED

To Honor Parkers. A banquet in honor of the Rev. Dr. and Mrs. William T. Parker, 417 Alexander Road, who celebrated their 50th anniversary earlier this summer, will be held Saturday from 6 to 9 p.m. at the Princeton High School cafeteria. Anyone may attend, tickets are $3.

The Rev. Dr. Parker had been minster of the First Baptist Church of Princeton for almost 32 years, when he retired in 1962. Both natives of Georgia, the Parkers met while they were attending Savannah State College, now part of the University of Georgia. They were married August 23, 1917.

Mr. Parker first went to Georgia Baptist College in Macon, then to Savannah State, graduating in 1917. He continued on to Colgate Divinity School, where he received a master's degree, and then to Virginia Theological Seminary for his doctor's degree. He later attended Princeton Theological Seminary as a special student for five years.

His first pastorate was the First Baptist Church, Aurora, N. Y. and the Baptist Church in Mumford, N. Y. After six years he went to Mt. Ararat Baptist Church in Rutherford and spent four years there before coming to Princeton.

Ashley Montagu, 321 Cherry Hill Road, in collaboration with social historian Edward Darling has written a new book exposing the myths of modern life. In "The Prevalence of Nonsense" the Princeton anthropologist proves that Mussolini did not make the trains run on time and that tight hats do not cause baldness.

Mr. Montagu explained, "the purpose of the book is to expose to public view some of the most outrageous nonsense of our day." But the authors do not want to destroy these misconceptions all together "because some of them are pretty droll."

Second Lieutenant Michael D. Smith, son of Colonel and Mrs. Herman F. Smith of 109 Lewis Brook Drive, Pennington, has received Air Force silver pilot wings. The 1966 alumnus of the U.S. Naval Academy is being assigned to an Air Force unit in Southeast Asia for flying duty.

Mrs. Elsa Rosenthal, 96 Mountain Avenue, and Mr. Alvin Schwartz, 50 Southern Way, have been honored for five years' service at a recognition luncheon for University College, the evening division of Rutgers University. Both are English teachers.

George Packard, 57 West Broad Street, Hopewell, chairman of the English Department of Princeton Day School, has written an article appearing in this week's Sports Illustrated on the Harrison Street Athletic Club touch football club.

Seaman recruit Florry A. Rossi, 18 year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Rossi of Penn Lyle Road, Princeton Junction, has completed Navy basic training. He is stationed at the Naval Traning Center in Great Lakes, Ill.

Returning to college this fall are Miss Mary M. McCrohan and Miss Patti Anne McCrohan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter J. McCrohan, 278 Hamilton Avenue. The former is a senior at Paterson State College in Wayne, while her sister is a senior at Virginia Intermont College, Bristol, Va.

COMMONS RENOVATED

For Fall Term. When Princeton University opens its underclass eating halls this week, the 50-year old dining facilities will be sporting a completely new look. A $300,000 renovation project that has taken three years is now in its final stage.

Food preparation areas that have remained virtually unchanged since they were built have been totally modernized. New equipment, much of it built to University specifications, has replaced the antiquated and inefficient equipment that had been used in the past to feed the 1600 freshmen and sophomores who eat in "Commons."

In addition to redesigning the kitchen layout, new construction required the installation of a service elevator and increased freezer facilities. Carrying out the changes was Matthews Construction Company of Princeton.

Other changes that will give Commons a new look are the extension of meal hours and the introduction of cafeteria style breakfasts. The changes came as the result of student recommendations and experiments last spring.

Thomas Root, Director of Food Services, added an extra 45 minutes of serving time to breakfast to raise lagging attendance at the early morning meal. He also added 60 minutes to dinner to provide for a more leisurely meal.

Another innovation will permit students to select record ed music to play while they are eating. The music will be wired to the food preparation areas where over 60 Commons employees work all but two hours of the day.

Mr. Root commented that the student-selected music, "will probably be more soul stirring than soothing." On Sundays the main meal will now be served in the evening instead of the afternoon. A

HOUSING QUADRANGLE STARTED: Princeton University broke ground this week for a faculty housing quadrangle overlooking Carnegie Lake. This architect's sketch illustrates the way it will apppear from Harrison Street. The five buildings in the center are two-story houses with independent basements and attics, while structures at left and right are end buildings on the northern and southern side of the quadrangle. QUADRANGLE BUILDING

For University Faculty. Princeton University has started work on a major housing project for its faculty. The plans drawn up by the New York firm of William and Geoffrey Platt — call for the construction of a quadrangle complex on the south side of Hartley Avenue west of Harrison Street and just north of the University's Lakeside Houses.

The buildings conceived as a quadrangle of houses and apartments for senior faculty and staff — will consist largely of two-story structures. Some three-story buildings will be built on the south side of the quadrangle on the land sloping toward Lake Carnegie.

Eighteen of the 27 units to be built will harmonize with the houses but will consist of one floor apartments.

An anonymous New York foundation has picked up the tab for most of the construction costs while the University will pay for the remaining costs. Advance plans were shown to the Princeton Township Planning Board last November as well as to residents of the area. A similar quadrangle will probably be built in the future.

CLASSES FORMING

For Princeton Adults. Princeton Adult School is accepting registration forms from residents interested in participating in some of the School's unusual courses. Mrs. James Johnson, curriculum chairman, pointed out that prospective students should apply immediately as class size is limited in most of them. (The complete curriculum is published on pages 28 and 29 of this issue.)

Featured in the School's curriculum this winter is a Rag Tapestry Workshop. Fabric designer Ann Wiseman Denzer will instruct participants in media and techniques used in folk art and creative stitchery.

Students will be encouraged to experimant with their own designs. A tapestry created in this manner by Mrs. Denzer and her students at the Stuart School in now hanging at the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York City.

Mrs. Denzer has studied art in New York City, Rome and Florence, illustrated children's books and designed textiles for Fuller Fabrics. In addition to her course at the Adult School she also teaches her craft at the Stuart School and the Junior Museum of the Metropolitan Museum of Art.

Nathaniel Burt, Princeton write, critic and composer, will conduct a lecture course in the writing of fiction. In "Fiction—What Is It?" he will attempt to define the fine line that separates reality from fantasy.

The course is designed not only for writers but also for those who are interested in reading intelligently. A graduate of Princeton University and New York University, Mr. Burt is the author of several novels, two books of poetry and a well received non-fiction work, "The Perennial Philadelphians."

The Council of Community Services and Family Service Agency of Princeton are offering a joint course entitled "Plan Now — Retire Later." Under the guidance of Dr. Dornthy Hill Larson, participants will explore such topics as financial planning, nutrition and keeping well, self-attitudes toward retirement and preparation for future free time activities.

Mrs. Mary Wigner, professor emeritus, Vassar and Douglas colleges, will head a course in "Studies in Elementary Physics." The introductory course will feature lab demonstrations prepared by Harold Waage of the Palmer Physical Lab.

Another course open to Adult School enrollees is "Masters of Modern Poetry." Professor Walton Litz of the English Department of Princeton University will analyze poems from Ezra Pound's "Selected Poems," T. S. Eliot's "The Wasteland and Other Poems," and "Poems by Wallace Stevens."

For the first time in many years a woodworking class has been included in the curriculum. Class instructor Ronald Dale requests that interested adults attend the Adult School Open House on Thursday, September 21, at 8 in the High School Cafeteria.

It is vital for Mr. Dale to meet his students so that he can determine their woodworking capabilities and discuss what projects would interest different individuals.

MASONS HONORED: Tokens emblematic of 50 years of membership in Princeton Lodge 38, F. & A.M., were awarded Monday to Harold M. Hinkson (second from left) and J. Edwin Wilson (second from right). Mr. Hinkson, a lifelong Princetonian, was for many years proprietor of the stationery store which bears his name. Mr. Wilson, a Plainsboro resident, was associated with Palmer Square, Inc., prior to his retirement. With them are John R. Henderson (left), master of Princeton Lodge, and Jacob Wood, District Deputy Grand Master of the 15th Masonic District of New Jersey, who presented the awards. Not in the picture but also honored in similar fashion was Edward A. MacMillan, for many years superintendent of Grounds and Buildings at Princeton University.

Obituaries

Dr. Carl W. Sweitzer, 67, of 60 Balsam Lane, died at his home on September 9. Associated with the Columbian Carbon Co. for 35 years, he was its director of research at the time of his retirement two years ago.

Born in Canada, Dr. Sweitzer had lived for two decades in Garden City, L. I. He moved to Princeton in 1959. During his life time, Dr. Sweitzer was the author of numerous technical papers and patents in the field of carbon black.

He leaves two sons, Carl H. of Newark and John H. of Princeton; a sister, Mrs. Hawley Braiden of Toronto; a brother, Earl, of Kitchener, Ontario; and a grandson.

The service was held at St. Andrews Presbyterian Church, the Rev. F. Hugh Liffton officiating. Burial was in Toronto, with arrangements here directed by the Kimble Funeral Home.

Charles J. Anderson, 63, of 20 Moore Street, died September 11 in Princeton Hospital following a short illness. A Princetonian for many years, Mr. Anderson had retired a bout a decade ago after serving for a quarter century as a member of the Borough Police Department.

Born in New York, he had served with the Seabees during World War II. He belonged to Princeton Council 636, Knights of Columbus, and to Princeton Engine Co. No. 3.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Mary A. Anderson; two daughters, Mrs. Franklyn Harris of Rockville, Md., and Mrs. Leroy Tozzer of South Pasadena, Calif.; a son, Charles J. Jr. of Rumson; a sister, Mrs. John W. Stalker of Princeton; and seven grandchildren.

Requiem high mass will be celebrated Thursday at 9:30 a.m. at St. Paul's Catholic Church. Burial will be in St. Paul's Cemetery under direction of the Kimble Funeral Home. Donations in his memory may be made to the Princeton First Aid and Rescue Squad.

Miss Helen Crissey, 61, of 177 Springdale Road, died September 9 at Doctors Nursing Home, Hightstown, following a brief illness. Until her retirement a number of years ago, she was assistant to the principal of the Horace Mann School in New York.

Born in that city, she was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. William W. Crissey. For the past 20 years, she had lived here with a friend, Miss Grace V. Bliss. Two nephews and two nieces are her nearest survivors.

A graveside service was held at Princeton Cemetery, with the Rev. Rugby Auer of Trinity Episcopal Church officiating. Arrangements were under direction of the Kimble Funeral Home.

Blair R. Reed, 10, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Reed of Rabbit Hill Road, Dutch Neck, died September 10 in Princeton Hospital. Born in Trenton, he was a pupil in the West Windsor Schools, and attended Dutch Neck Presbyterian Church.

He is also survived by four sisters, Jennifer, Heather, Gretchen and Gaye; his paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Reed of Dutch Neck; his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Wismer, and his maternal great grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Wismer, all of Trenton, and by three aunts.

The funeral was held in Trenton, with burial in Dutch Neck Presbyterian Church Cemetery. Donations in his memory may be made to the Hydrocephalus Research Neuro-Surgical Clinic, Media, Pa.

Mrs. Helen E. Kane, 77, died September 7 at her home on Featherbed Lane, Hopewell. Widow of Charles J. Kane, she lived in Philadelphia before moving to Hopewell 40 years ago.

Five sons survive: James of Trenton, Charles and William of Hopewell, John of Flemington Junction and Joseph, who is serving in the Air Force.

Requiem mass was celebrated in St. Alphonsus Church, Hopewell, with burial in the parish cemetery.

Mrs. Mabel Hancock, 75, a former resident of Belle Mead, died September 10 at her home in Palm City, Fla.

Widow of Edwin W. Hancock, she is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Dorothy Ward of Palm City and Mrs. Irma Rocknak of Belle Mead; a son, Ralph E. Westervelt of Belle Mead; six grandchildren and nine great grandchildren.

The funeral was held in Stuart, Fla.

Mrs. Annette G. Gefaell, a resident of Library Place 30 years ago, died September 8 in New York.

Wife of the late John E. Gefaell, she is survived by two sons, John H. and Robert G. and a daughter, Mrs. Sanders Maxwell, 219 Edgerstoune Road. Graveside services were held in Fairview Cemetery, Westfield.

Mrs. Elizabeth H. Russell, formerly of Princeton, died September 10 at her home in Manitou Springs, Colo.

Born in Princeton, she is survived by a twin sister, Mrs. George Gardiner, Alfred, N.Y., another sister, Mrs. Frank K. Edmondson, Bloomington, Ill.; a brother, Dr. Henry N. Russell, Grosse Isle, Mich., and her mother, Mrs. Henry N. Russell.

A family service will be held Monday at Princeton Cemetery, with the Rev. E. Rugby Auer of Trinity Episcopal Church officiating. Interment will be under direction of the Mather Funeral Home.

Henry B. Braasch, 86, of 45 East Broad Street, Hopewell, died September 9 at the home of his step son, Robert Holcombe Braasch, he had lived in Hopewell for 40 years and prior to that, in Pennington. He was a carpenter and builder who had remained active until he was 75.

A step-daughter, Mrs. Herbert Wilson of Winter Gardens, Fla., also survives. The service was held at the Cromwell Memorial Home, the Rev. Kenneth E. Hummel of the Hopewell Methodist Church, of which he was a member, officiating. Interment was in Highland Cemetery.

Walter W. Perrine, 00, of Harris Road, Princeton Junction, died September 12 in the Elms Nursing Home, Cranbury.

Born in Plainsboro, he had lived in this area all his life. For 50 years, he had served as a ticket agent for the Pennsylvania Railroad, retiring in 1956. Mr. Perrine was a member of Apollo Lodge 99, F. & A. M., of Cranbury.

Husband of the late Nettie Davison Perrine, he is survived by a daughter, Mrs. J. B. Buckley of South Brunswick Township, and a brother, Stephen A. Perrine of Fogelsville, Pa.

The service will be held Friday at 2 at the A. S. Cole Funeral Home, Cranbury. The Rev. Carl Wolf of the First Presbyterian Church will officiate, with burial in Kingston Cemetery.

News Of The CHURCHES

CONFERENCE SCHEDULED

By Seminary. Martin E. Marty, theologian, author and lecturer, will be the featured speaker at the Princeton Theological Seminary's 1967 Autumn Alumni Conference Thursday and Friday.

During the two day conference, which is designed to give Seminary graduates the opportunity to consult with outstanding theologians, Dr. Marty will deal with the problem of "Christian Hope and the Cult of the Future." His lectures and the discussion sessions will be a three part series: "Hope without History: The Perennial Heresy"; "The Theology of Hope: An Untried Orthodoxy" and "A Ministry with Hope: The Eventual Practice."

Dr. Marty, who also serves as associate editor of the Christian Century, is chairman of the Historical Field of the Divinity School of the University of Chicago, where he is associate professor of Modern Church History. Dr. J. Charles McKirachan, president of the Seminary's alumni association, will lead returning alumni in worship.

MINISTER TO SPEAK

On Teen Challenge Program. The Rev. John Benton, who is in charge of the Teen Challenge Program, will speak in the Kingston Presbyterian Church, Monday, September 25 at 7:30 p.m. Only women and teen age girls are invited.

The Rev. Mr. Benton works with the founder of Teen Challenge, the Rev. David Wilkerson, author of "The Cross and the Switchblade." Mr. Benton will bring with him several of the girl drug addicts, reached by the program, who will share their experiences.

An offering will be donated to the work of Teen Challenge. The program is sponsored by the Women's Association, Mrs. Donald Wolf, president and Mrs. Spencer Smith, program chairman.

ONE-ACT PLAY SET

For Thursday Performance. A one act play by Ralph Stone, "Construction," will be presented at the Methodist Church Thursday at 8 p.m., as an introduction to the ecumenical and churchwide study theme for the year.

Sponsored by the Women's Society and the official board of the church, the play deals with the efforts of a group of people to cope meaningfully with the unknown forces around them. The cast includes Harvey Hook, Arthur Benson, Anita Beck, Iva Webb, Bruce Hook, Debbie Benson, Betty Davis, Warren Davis, Dr. Thomas Robbins Jr., and Dr. Leon Gibbson, minister of the church.

REGISTRATION SET

For Religious Instruction. A cooperative venture into weekly religious instruction has been undertaken by the Witherspoon, St. Andrew's and First Presbyterian churches.

Registration for the classes will take place Sunday at each of the three churches. Those unable to register then may do so prior to Friday, September 22, at one of the churches.

Classes, taught by professional Christian educators, working in conjunction with the Princeton Theological Seminary, will be held on Wednesday afternoons. Tuition of $30 will be charged for the year, with scholarships available.

NEW RECTOR: The Rev. James R. Whittemore will become rector of Trinity Parish effective Friday.

COOKBOOK REPRINTED

By Trinity Parish. The popular Trinity parish cookbook, "Guests Unlimited," has been reprinted in response to many requests.

Compiled by the women of Trinity Parish, the book was first brought out in September, 1964, and 3,000 copies were sold. Many orders for a second printing have already been received. Due to increased printing costs, the cookbook is now priced at $3.25.

To obtain a copy, call or write the Trinity Parish Office, 33 Mercer Street, 924-2277, or Mrs. E. F. Hockings, 452-2484. Books will be mailed anywhere in the United States for an additional 25c.

BULLETIN NOTES

The fall church school program of the Lawrenceville Presbyterian Church begins Sunday at 11 a.m. It includes activities and learning experiences for children from kindergarten through 6th grade.

Guest speaker at the 8:15 Friday evening service at the Jewish Center will be Mrs. Lora Liss of the National Council of Jewish Women and a member of the State Migrant Labor Commission. Her topic will be migrant labor in New Jersey.

Calvary Baptist - United Church of Christ begins its fall program this Sunday. Church school classes at 10, Morning Worship at 11, and planning conference at 3 p.m. Resource leader for the conference will be the Rev. Homer J. Tucker, pastor of the Mt. Zion Baptist Church, Newark and director of Urban Work and Community Ministries for the New Jersey Baptist Convention. He will discuss his experience in the Newark riots.

The Women's Guild for Christian Service of the Blawenburg Reformed Church, will sponsor a fall roast beef dinner on Saturday, September 30. Servings will be from 5 to 8 at the Blawenburg Church House. Tickets may be purchased at the door: adults, $2.50; children, $1.25.

Sermon topic for the Rev. F. Hugh Liffiton at the 10:30 a.m. service of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church this Sunday will be "School for Character."

The Men's Club of the Princeton Jewish Center will hold its first meeting of the year on Thursday, September 21 at 8:30 p.m. at the Center. A feature of the meeting, a new member smoker, will be the showing of the CBS news film "Middle East Perspective: Is Peace Possible?"

Dr. Leon W. Gibbson will preach at the 11 a.m. Methodist service Sunday. His sermon topic will be "What About the Clergy?"

The GREATEST . . . BEST . . . FASTEST . . . How many times have you seen and heard these words in ads selling service . . . we admit, we've used them ourselves. But we have found that you can't sell a service with superlatives! We simply say that we think our TV Repair Service is merely better than adequate . . . it's only GOOD

We have trained, competent technicians with years of experience in their profession to back that statement.

And most of all, we have many satisfied customers . . . which is, after all, our ultimate goal!

You're on the right path . . . as you enter this custom brick & frame Ranch . . . one of the most attractive homes in Elm Ridge Park, just six minutes from Princeton. You'll be even more convinced this is your next home as you step into the impressive foyer. An attractive living room, dining room, paneled den, an all-electric kitchen, 3 bedrooms and 2 baths: Step outside again to the rear porch, secluded by beautiful trees & plantings on an acre and half corner lot. $52,500

Four bedrooms in the forties — right in an established area of Princeton Township. Not many in this range that are only 5 minutes walk to Nassau Street or Lake Carnegie. It's only a hop-skip and jump to Littlebrook School too! The outdoor area's setting is matched only by the indoor comfort of spacious Colonial rooms. $48,000

Three years "new" — and priced right! You'll agree when we show you this 4-bedroom center hall Colonial home near Princeton. It's in cared-for condition throughout. There's a fireplace in the large living room, a full dining room, modern kitchen, 2½ baths and 2-car garage. You'll be ready for next summer's heat with central air conditioning. Extras include first floor and stairway carpeting. $36,000

If you're home hunting in the Princeton area . . . or ten miles away . . . we have over 300 listings . . . like a 3-bedroom Pennington home for only $22,500

A ROOM FOR PARTIES, A ROOM FOR FUN AND GAMES: a large paneled room with a thousand uses has been added to the garden side of this inviting Princeton Township Cape Cod. Overlooking terrace, lawn and trees through a wide bank of south-facing windows it's that wonderful extra space that makes the house so very liveable. Besides, there's a handsome living room with fireplace and book wall, separate dining room, workable kitchen with adjoining laundry-mud room and ground floor bedroom with its own powder room. Upstairs, two good bedrooms and bath. Basement and garage. Surrounded by trees and conveniently located within walking distance of everything. $37,500

A LITTLE HOUSE THAT WANTS SOME LOVE: and we think you'll find reasons enough. The location is not really far from town, out the Great Road past the Princeton Day School in a village setting; the lot is lovely, an acre with many interesting trees and shrubs. The main part of the house is pre-turn-of-the Century and consists of a large entrance hall, dining room and sunny kitchen on the first floor plus 3 bedrooms (one very tiny) and bath on the second. Then, a few years ago, a large step-down living room was added to the rear. It has a stone floor, beamed 'cathedral' ceiling, fireplace and two walls of glass. How's that for something to love? There's a one-car garage, too. The house can be bought with the whole acre for $27,500 or with just half an acre for somewhat less.

A BIG HOUSE THAT'S BEEN WELL LOVED: and has been given attention by its imaginative owners, who with architect and builder through the years, have made something very special for you to see. Rambling expansively on two plus wooded acres in Princeton's western Township, it has been carefully zoned for comfortable big family living. The formal part of the house includes tile floored entrance hall, elegant living room with windows on three sides, fireplace and 9 foot ceiling, dining room with fireplace, ground floor master bedroom and bath and paneled study. For informal living, there's a wonderfully workable kitchen flanked by breakfast room and spectacular two level family-cum playroom with fireplace, built in sofas and central air-conditioning. For the children there are 4 bedrooms and 3 full baths and over the two car garage there's a maid's or guest room and bath. For outdoor days, there are three separate terraces, including one by the side of a glimmering heated pool, and a big screened porch. A very personal, very unusual house. Priced at $120,000

MEET THE TVR TUSCAN

We haven't named it after an animal...
Simply because we haven't found an animal worthy of it.

TVR TUSCAN—

TVR'S New V8 Powered GT Coupe . . .
That Doesn't Bark, Whinny, Swim, or Hiss...
IT JUST GOES!

TVR gave the Tuscan the maximum in performance, handling, and dependability. To do this with the powerful Ford 289CID supplying the horses, TVR engineered an all new, race-bred, tubular space frame. Powered by the race-proven 4.7 liter Ford V8, Tuscon develops 271 b.h.p. at 6500 r.p.m. And in fourth gear at those 6500 r.p.m.'s, the Tuscon is attaining speeds in excess of 170 m.p.h. That's pretty impressive for a town car, isn't it?

Yes; town car. The Tuscan was developed, first and foremost, for normal town and country driving.

The new, highly effective disk braking and Servo unit gives the Tuscon unsurpassed braking qualities to match its tremendous performance. The Tuscan has been road tested at 0-100 and stop, in 18.5 seconds.

With its performance capabilities, ease of handling, and strong aerodynamicly designed, glas-fiber coachwork; the Tuscan stands among the finest of the world's GT cars.

See and Drive The
SAAB New V-4 Engine

Funny, you don't look like a 4-cycle, 1498cc, 73hp, overhead valve V-4.

Bet you still think SAAB has only one kind of engine. Our famous 2-cycle, 3-cylinder "Shrike" engine. Well don't bet on it. Because SAAB now has a new V-4 engine, too. Zero to 50 in 10 seconds. Top speeds of over 90 mph. More power for acceleration. For hills. For safer passing. (And V-4 SAABs have front wheel disc brakes, for stopping all that power.) Funny thing, but it looks like this new high-performance V-4 should make the rally-winningest car in the world an even bigger winner. (That's something you can bet on.) SAAB

KEEP AMERICA BEAUTIFUL and screen out that undesirable view with a year-round evergreen living fence. Heavy, bushy specimen, fast-growing Canadian Hemlock, 2'-2½' tall, planted 6' apart, single row or double row staggered, will do the job and are $7.50 ea. Black Japanese Pine or Austrian Pine, 2'-2½' tall are $8.50 ea. For a low, low decorative hedge: Taxus Cuspidata Capitata (half-upright, half-spreading Yew, one of the finest), 2'-2½' spread, $13.50 ea. Or, if neighborly relations are at an all-time low, we'll plant instant privacy: heavy dense Norway Spruce (no straggly Christmas trees, these!) 3½'-4', $12.50 ea., 5'-6', $15 ea. Prices include planting, peat moss and 6 months guarantee for from 10-500 plants. If you prefer that old standby, the Privet hedge we offer semi-evergreen Amurense Privet, 2'-3' tall, $135 per 100; 3'-4' tall, $175 per 100 planted and guaranteed. Special: Extra heavy Hemlock, 6'-8' tall, from 10 - 50, $55 ea., incl. planting and peat moss; from 50 - 100, $50 ea. These are in extremely short supply, first come first served. Three elegant homes are now being readied for fall delivery. Each overlooks a gentle brook, has an abundance of stately trees, and nestles into a rolling hillside lot of one and one-half acres.

HISTORIC . . . on 5 lovely acres with great trees and a beautiful swimming pool, the old stone house (King's Grant Farm) has been remodeled with loving care . . . and in wonderful taste. First floor has center hall, large modern kitchen with electric dishwasher, double wall oven, clothes washer, etc. Dining room with huge fireplace and beamed ceiling. Large screened porch with beautiful flagstone floor. Upstairs: living room with fireplace, bedroom and bath. Third floor: 2 bedrooms, each with bath. This is a most unusual house, and there is enough road frontage so that one lovely lot could be sold off without reducing the value of this fine property. (sole agent) $72,500

SUPERB CONDITION . . . Rarely have we seen a property so beautifully maintained as this little gem in Riverside. Large lot, expertly landscaped. Cape Cod with carpeted foyer, living room with fireplace, dining room, modern kitchen, 2 bedrooms and bath. Upstairs: paneled playroom, bedroom, unfinished bath. This home really sparkles! $38,000

RIVERSIDE . . . beautiful half-acre with rail fence and many trees. This is one of the few homes available in the very desirable Riverside area. Remodeled house has foyer, living room with wall-to-wall carpeting, modern kitchen, paneled study, 3 bedrooms, 2½ baths, central air-conditioning and electrostatic filter, 2-car garage. $44,500

FOUR BEDROOMS . . . in one of Princeton's most attractive neighboring communities, with a gorgeous view of rolling wooded countryside, this fine shingled Colonial home has white trim and shutters. One acre of land, with beautiful lawns and shrubbery and a fenced backyard. The house has a foyer with powder room on one side and hall closet on the other. Two steps down, there is a large living room with fireplace and cross ventilation. Paneled den. Separate dining room. Large kitchen with ample breakfast space, adjoining laundry and entrance to attached 2-car garage. Large dry basement. Upstairs: master bedroom with big walk-in closet, another closet and bath, plus 3 more bedrooms and bath. (sole agent) $45,500

CHARMING . . . in a wooded area, this fine brick home has knotty pine paneled living room with fireplace, large kitchen, laundry, many big closets, screened porch with slate floor, 3 bedrooms and large tiled bath. Upstairs: huge paneled room with bar & ½ bath. Here is a beautifully constructed home built for his own dwelling by the owner — a builder himself. (sole agent) $46,500

LAWRENCEVILLE . . . 5 bedrooms, 2½ baths. Large Colonial, built in 1965, on a wooded acre. Entry hall, living room 13.4 x 23, dining room, family room with fireplace, modern kitchen, laundry & powder room. Central air-conditioning. Lovely patio. This is one of the beautiful homes in secluded "Longacres," adjoining a college campus, where all that Time can do to the property is make it more attractive . . . and more valuable. (sole agent) $63,000

WOODED . . . against an almost rural background of lofty trees, this long, low white house enjoys as lovely a setting as any in the Township. 4 bedrooms, 2 baths. All rooms on one floor. Big paneled recreation room with fireplace, and powder room, in basement. Living room (15x27) with fireplace, 14x16 dining room, modern kitchen with dishwasher and disposal, sunroom and a beautiful flagstoned patio. Master bedroom has two over-sized, walk-in closets. The house has been freshly painted this summer! (sole agent) $64,500

MERCER STREET . . . close to Battlefield Park, this property, with its lofty trees and beautiful landscaping, is located in one of Princeton's most sought-after neighborhoods. A lovely story-and-a-half Colonial, with white clapboards and black shutters, the residence is as beautifully maintained as any we've ever seen. Entrance foyer, large (31x27) living room with fireplace, spacious dining room, spic and span modern kitchen, powder room, master bedroom and bath on first floor. Upstairs: 3 bedrooms and bath. Lots of closets and storage space. Attached 2-car garage. Large, quiet attic fan. This is a very fine home, in impeccable condition. (sole agent) $72,500

PERFECT SETTING . . . In a grove of beautiful shade trees, and surrounded by a velvety lawn, this lovely home offers you a wonderful way to live. Central air-conditioning is one feature. Another is the indoor swimming pool, heated and filtered, in a separate wing. A third is the attached guest cottage, with living room, kitchen, 2 bedrooms and bath. Outdoors there is a huge, flagstone terrace. Indoors, entry hall, living room with fireplace, study (or 4th bedroom), large modern kitchen and separate pantry, paneled family room with hidden bar in a closet, spacious dining room, and bedroom & bath. Upstairs: master bedroom with dressing room and powder room; another big bedroom with a vast cedar closet, and bath. (sole agent) $89,500

BUILDING LOT . . . on a brand new cul-de-sac in a very fine location, this one-acre property has gas and city water available. $8500

RENTAL . . . in the Western Section of Princeton, with use of swimming pool and its own backyard, this 3-bedroom apartment also has living room, dining room, modern kitchen, bath and one-car garage. No young children, or animal pets. $300

Many more fine homes in Princeton and vicinity in every price range.
